NAVY'S GREATEST WAR GAME IS NOW WELL UNDER WAY

"Enemy" Fleet Under Admiral Mayo Sighted Yesterday Six Hundred Miles at Sea.

BRINGS "INVADING" ARMY

Defending Fleet Under Rear Admiral Helm Sweeping East to Meet the "Invaders."

Washington, Aug. 22.—Two mighty fleets were grappling for each other in the dark tonight somewhere off the Atlantic coast, in the opening phase of the most realistic and elaborate war game every undertaken by the American navy. The Navy Department on a war footing was invoking every agency to aid Rear Admiral Helm, commanding the "Blue" defending fleet which was sweeping seaward behind a line of scouts nearly six hundred miles long to meet and repulse Admiral Mayo's "Red" battle fleet and its convoy of transports.

The game began at 6 o'clock this morning, when Admiral Helm, on his flagship, the Rhode Island, received word than an agent of the State Department aboard the ship bound from New York to Gibraltar had reported that the 15 battleships of the "Red" fleet had been sighted 600 miles due east of Cape Hatteras. The report said thirty transports were following the enemy fleet bringing an army of invasion to be landed at some point between Cape Hatteras and Eastport, Maine.

An hour after the report the 12 battleships of Admiral Helm's main fighting fleet, manned by civilian volunteers and naval militiamen were headed seaward from Narragansett. Ahead of them nearly a score of swift destroyers were speeding eastward to get in touch with the enemy, followed and supported by a cruiser squadron headed by the aeroplane ship North Carolina. Rear Admiral Gleaves commands the scouting force which is converging on the point where the enemy was known to be at day-light this morning.

Admiral Mayo's problem is to force a way through the "Blue" fleet for his transports. The game board within which operations must be confined is virtually 600 miles square and with 15 active battleships of the Atlantic fleet as his main fighting unit, Admiral Mayo controls a force that Admiral Helm must employ strategy to defeat. Rear Admiral Knight, head of the Navy War Cloiege, is umpiring the game from the battleship Pennsylvania.

The radio signals of the enemy fleet mean nothing to the operators on Admiral Gleaves' scouting ships. The messages are in a cipher code known only to the officers and men of the "Red" fleet. Even the Navy Department does not know it, for the department is on the side of the defending "Blue" fleet and is using every means in repelling the invader before he sights American soil.

Intercepted messages of all sorts were picked up tonight by "Blue" scouts and sent back through the radio relay ships stationed astern of the advancing line. The big wireless towers at Arlington received them and sent them promptly to the Navy Department where code experts struggled over them through the night seeking the key to the cipher. The whole department blazed with light, with officers on duty in every bureau prepared to meet and demand Admiral Helm might make upon them for ammunition, men, repairs, additional ships or other support. Through its officers along the Atlantic coast the department searched eagerly for reports brought by inbound ships as to Admiral Mayo's movements, ready to transmit them promptly to the "Blue" commander.

By the terms of the problem, prepared at the Naval War College, the "Red" commander has until September 1 to effect a landing.

There is no limit to his movements except that he must reach the coast between the points named either in sufficient force to beat off any fleet Admiral Helm can bring against him, or without having been sighted by the "Blue" scouts.

SIMMONS DEFENDS THE REVENUE BILL

HE PRODUCES THE FIGURES

Partisan Battle Royal, Covering Several Days, Over the Revenue Measure is Indicated on Every Hand.

Washington, Aug. 22.—With Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance committee, submitting figures designed to disprove Republican charges of Democratic extravagance, and Senator Smoot, Republican finance expert, asserting that the Democratic party should be convicted of attempting to procure votes under false pretenses, general debate on the $205,000,000 emergency revenue bill began today in the Senate. There were indications on every hand of a partisan battle royal to be waged for several days.

Senator Simmons insisted that National defense, preparedness and the Mexican situation were altogether responsible for the necessity of special revenue legislation and a proposed bond issue.

Senator Smoot, opening the Republican assault on the revenue bill, said if the Democratic party were to be retained in control of the government, the country "would suffer an era of unequalled extravagance, combined with inefficiency unsurpassed."

His attack was supported by Senator Curtis, who asserted that revenues should be raised by a protective tariff.

To prove his contention that normal appropriations of this session are not excessive, Senator Simmons submitted Treasury Department estimates for the year 1917 showing that, excluding postal appropriations, bond issues already authorized and amounts that will not be expended, revenues must be provided for disbursements of $1,126,243,000. Of this amount the total appropriated for National defense would aggregate about $654,000,000, and the senator submitted other figures to prove that this extraordinary amount, due to preparedness and the Mexican emergency, exceeded normal defense appropriations by about $372,280,000.

"This amount," said Senator Simmons, "deducted from the total estimated disbursements for the fiscal year 1917, would leave $753,963,000 as the amount required to meet the total normal disbursements of the government for that year. Now the total estimated receipts for the year 1917 under existing laws is $762,000,000, or $8,037,000 more than the estimated normal disbursements, making it clear that but for the extraordinary increase in the appropriation for the naval and military establishment which have been thought expedient, the normal receipts would be sufficient to pay the expenses of the government for the year and leave a surplus of over $8,000,000 in the treasury, just as the receipts for the year 1916, (before we entered upon this preparedness programme and before the Mexican situation developed) actually yielded a sufficient revenue to pay expenses of the government and left a surplus in the treasury of $55,270,000."

Subtracting from the estimated disbursements the estimated receipts for 1917, the Senator showed that the balance to be provided for is $364,243,000. To meet this amount he submitted that

Delivered Many Speeches Yesterday in California.

Talked Chiefly of His Conviction That the Country Needs a Protective Tariff to Meet European Competition.

Fresno, Cal., Aug. 22.—At the turn of his trans-continental trip, Charles E. Hughes was speeding north today from Los Angeles to Sacramento with 14 scheduled stops for brief speeches in the San Joaquin valley. He made a 10-minute talk here.

On his way through the valley the nominee talked chiefly of his conviction that the country needs a protective tariff to enable American enterprises to meet the competition of Europe when peace comes. Tonight he will speak at Sacramento.

Mr. Hughes made his speeches as brief as possible. At Lindsay Mr. Hughes said:

"I am for maintaining American standards of living, maintaining our wage scale and I believe in fairly and honestly applying the Republican doctrine of protection and in that way upbuilding and maintaining American prosperity."

To an audience at Visalia, the nominee outlined what he considers the chief issues of the campaign as follows:

"The maintenance of the national honor that the American name may be respected throughout the world; the maintenance of the rights of American citizens, that those rights may be enforced here and abroad; the maintenance of the rights of American labor and American industry in order that we may compete with other nations, particularly in the strenuous competition which we will have after the close of the war."

APPEAL MADE TO CATHOLIC VOTERS

Urged to Cast Their Ballots to Bring About "Proper Conditions" in the Country.

MR. ZIPF MAKES APPEAL

Mass Meeting of the German Roman Catholic Central Verein Held in New York—Resolutions Are Adopted.

New York, Aug. 22.—Catholic voters throughout the United States were urged, at a mass meeting of the German Roman Catholic Central Verein here tonight, to unite and cast their influences at the polls "where it will best subserve the high and holy principles" for which Catholics stand. James F. Zipf, president of the Gonzaga union, of St. Louis, who made the appeal, declared there were at least 3,000,000 Catholic voters in the country —"quite a force", he said, "for the bringing about of proper conditions."

"That," Mr. Zipf added, "is almost as many votes as the Republican party polled at the last general election. That very number places in our hands a power to be used in works of social civic betterment, in works of mercy and of peace. When the Catholic arm is uplifted let it be for construction always, but never for destruction."

Mr. Zipf asserted he was not contending for a religious party, but for an organization of Catholics to bring into public life a spirit of liberty and toleration.

A resolution demanding that at the end of the world war the Pope "be heard in the council of the nations for the securing and cementing of a permanent peace," was passed by the American Federation of Catholic Societies at its convention.

A resolution was also adopted "inviting thoughtful attention" to a statement "regarding the attitude of American Catholics towards their persecuted co-religionists and towards those who are not their co-religionists in Mexico.

The statement embodied in the resolution declared that at no time "since the beginning of the sad outrages against religion in Mexico" has the church, or any official body or leader affiliated with the church, lent aid, financial or otherwise, to the stirring up of strife, either here or elsewhere, against any person or group claiming to be a government or even a faction in Mexico."

The only money raised by Catholics in this country to aid Mexico, it was added, "was raised and expended for charitable purposes."

"What Catholics of the United States ask in connection with Mexico," declared the resolution, "is that whatever form of government be established in Mexico with the aid and friendship of our country, it shall grant and guarantee liberty of conscience and freedom of worship as they exist in our United States, and which are denied in Mexico by unjust laws." A resolution passed by the Catholic Young Men's National Union today, called upon members "to act as a unit in taking up preparedness."

Officers of the Union were re-elected as follows:

President, Michael J. Slattery, Philadelphia; first vice president, M. F. Fitzpatrick, Baltimore; second vice president, G. R. Golterman, Wilmington, Del.; secretaray, Sylvester A. Hauck, Jr., Philadelphia; treasurer, Harry R. Murray, Philadelphia.

ANOTHER FIGHT OVER ARMY BILL PROBABLE

Effort to be Made in Senate to Restore Articles of War.

Hay Proposal, However, Would be Eliminated—House Re-Passes the Measure Without the Articles of War.

Washington, Aug. 22.—After the House today had re-passed the $314,000,000 army appropriation bill without the revised articles of war feature, of which caused President Wilson to veto the measure, it was hastened to the Senate and there referred to the military committee.

Tonight Chairman Chamberlain announced that the committee would meet tomorrow and restore the articles of war, eliminating the Hay proposal to exempt retired officers and men from the military code, the provision objected to by the President. If a point of order is made and sustained against the articles in the Senate, Senator Chamberlain will seek to retain them by a two-thirds vote.

Representative Hay has let it be known that he will not insist again upon his amendment. There are reports, however, that Republican Leader Mann may demand a quorum of the House to send the bill back to conference. Such a development might prolong the session of Congress several days.

Washington, August 22.—The annual lighthouse bill, authorizing contracts for lighthouses and lightships at various points on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts, at prices ranging from $25,000 to $150,000 each, and aggregating about $1,000,000, was sent to the President today, the House adopting a conference report already approved by the Senate.

SECRETARY LANE, JUDGE GRAY AND DR. MOTT TO SERVE

Have Been Appointed American Commissioners to Confer on the Mexican Situation.

MEETINGS TO SOON BEGIN

First Problem to be Taken Up Will Probably be Withdrawal of American Troops.

Washington, August 22.—Secretary Lansing announced tonight that the American members of the joint commission to undertake settlement of differences between the United States and Mexico would be Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior; Judge George Gray, of Wilmington, Del., and Dr. John R. Mott, of New York City. All of the commissioners have accepted their appointments, the Mexican members were named some time ago, and arrangements for their meeting will be made immediately by Secretary Lansing and Eliseo Arredondo, General Carranza's ambassador designate. Fortunately the only question to be decided is where the sessions shall be held. The Mexicans are understood to prefer some resort on the New Jersey coast.

Secretary Lane, who will head the American group, was the first member selected. Associate Justice Brandeis was President Wilson's second choice, but after a conference with Chief Justice White he decided his duties would not permit him to serve. Judge Gray, a retired Federal Circuit judge and a former United States Senator, has had much experience on international bodies and since 1900 has been a member of the International Permanent Court of Arbitration, under The Hague convention. Dr. Mott is general secretary of the international committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations and author of numerous religious works. He was offered the post of minister to China by President Wilson, but declined it.

The Mexican commissioners are Louis Caberera, minister of finance, Ygnacio Bonillas and Alberto Pani. Both of the latter are engineers, and Bonillas is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Probably the first problem taken up by the joint committee will be the proposed withdrawal of American troops from Mexico. As General Funston has recommended the recall of General Pershing's expedition, this is expected to be agreed to by the American members. General Carranza appointed his commissioners "preferably" to discuss this question, the negotiation of a protocol covering the crossing of the international border in pursuit of bandits and investigation of the interests which might be behind the raids in American territory. The United States refused to limit the discussion to these subjects and others undoubtedly will be gone into.

SENTIMENT IN DENMARK IS AGAINST SALE OF ISLANDS.

This Information Brought to America by Count Moltke.

New York, Aug. 22.—Sentiment in Denmark is strongly against the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States, according to Count Frederick Moltke, a captain in the Danish army, who arrived here today aboard the Scandinavian-American Line steamship Hellig Oav. Count Moltke is on his way to Washington, where he will join the Danish legation as director of army contracts.

Marius I. Nyeboe, a prominent ship owner of Denmark, and a well known Arctic explorer who is on his way to Greenland, supplemented Count Moltke's statement by saying that the general sentiment in Denmark is to postpone the sale until the end of the war.

REPRESENTATIONS IN BEHALF OF THE ARMENIANS IN PERSIA

Appeal to be Made to Turkey "In the Name of Humanity."

Washington, Aug. 22.—The American embassy in Constantinople was instructed by the State Department today to make representations to the Porte in behalf of Armenians who are threatened by the Turkish advance into Persia.

The representations call on the Turkish government "in the name of humanity" not to permit any massacre of Armenians in Persia. The purpose is to forewarn Turkey against any such situation as prevailed in Asia Minor.

STOP OPERATION OF CARS.

Chattanooga Still Contending With Street Car Strike.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 22.—All street cars of the Chattanooga Railway & Light Cofpany ceased operation at 10 o'clock tonight on order of the general superintendent who said it was a precaution against violence by strike sympathizers to passengers and operators threatened in suburban districts beyond jurisdiction of the city police. The order was issued after minor disturbances. If no change is shown in the strike situation tomorrow, cars will only be operated in day time on suburban lines, company officials predicted.

New York, Aug. 22.—Spring duck killing in the states of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas hereafter will be prohibited, it was announced tonight by the Federal advisory committee to the Department of Agriculture.

RAILWAY PRESIDENTS HAVE NOT YET AGREED ON REPLY TO APPEAL OF MR. WILSON

Three Members of Drafting Committee Discussed Situation With the President Last Night—Arbitration is Still Insisted Upon—Restlessness Shown by Members of the Brotherhoods— Reply to Railroads' Statement.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Eight presidents of important railway systems who have been designated to draft the railways' reply to President Wilson's appeal that they accept his plan for averting a nation-wide strike were in almost continuous session today and tonight without solving their problem. Late tonight three of the committeemen—Hal Holden, of the Burlington; R. S. Lovett, of the Union Pacific, and Daniel Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio, discussed the situation with President Wilson. They were at the White House for more than an hour and on leaving declined to talk about their visit, further than to say they had asked for the conference to "discuss the general situation" and expected to see the President again.

Although some of the 60 or more presidents are showing a disposition to prolong the negotiation in the hope that the sentiment of business men of the country will be shown to be opposed to the idea of an 8-hour day, there was a general feeling tonight that a different answer to President Wilson's demand can not be much longer postponed. The President is understood to have indicated that he desired his proposal to be fully debated by the executives but their conferences among themselves have failed so far to develop any concrete plan likely to win approval.

Still Insist Upon Arbitration.

So far as the presidents would discuss the situation, they still are insistent upon an arbitration of the 8-hour day and all other issues with the employes. As the conferences continued there was less talk of action which would lead to a strike, but some of the executives are expected to fight to the last ditch any plan which would force an 8-hour day upon the roads without some form of arbitration.

It was understood the White House conference tonight did not develop any actual plan, but that the three executives wished to get President Wilson's views on various phases of the matter so that they could be outlined to the rest of the committee tomorrow. The executives are said to realize that Mr. Wilson cannot recede from the position he has publicly taken and some of them are convinced now that about all they can hope for is to come out with some concessions.

Feeling of Restlessness.

Among the more than 600 representatives of the railroad brotherhoods in Washington there was evident today a feeling of restlessness and there were many inquiries of leaders as to how long they must remain. It is not expected that this feeling will lead to any open revolt unless the conferences between President Wilson and the ex-

PORTO RICO IS SWEPT BY A TROPICAL STORM

Has Maximum Wind Velocity of Eighty-Eight Miles an Hour.

Was Apparently Moving Toward the Northwest and May be Felt Over the Florida Peninsula by Wednesday Night

Washington, Aug. 22.—A Weather Bureau storm warning tonight said a tropical storm with a maximum wind velocity of 88 miles an hour passed over Porto Rico about 7 o'clock this morning, apparently moving toward the northwest, but later reports had not fixed its location other than a short distance north of Haiti, this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The disturbance may be felt over the Florida peninsula by Wednesday night, unless it recourves sooner to the northwestward. All shipping near Bahama and off the South Atlantic coast was advised to use caution.

YESTERDAY WAS HOTTEST DAY OF THE SUMMER IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 22.—This was the hottest day of the summer here and the hottest August 22 in the history of the New York Weather Bureau. Street thermometers stood at more than 100 and the official temperature as registered far above the street level was 94 at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The heat wave is known to have killed three persons and prostrated scores.

HEAT WAVE TO BE LARGELY DISSIPATED BY TONIGHT

Washington, Aug. 22.—The intense heat wave that enveloped the country east of the Mississippi river will be dissipated largely by Wednesday night, if predictions of the Weather Bureau come true. Low pressure areas over Manitoba and the St. Lawrence Valley, the immediate cause of the high temperatures, are moving eastward and are expected to draw cooler air from the upper lake region in their wake.

The maximum temperatures this afternoon in northeastern Pennsylvania were the highest ever reported in August.

OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR HUGHES

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Miss Anne Martin, chairman of the National Woman's party, opened her speaking campaign in behalf of Hughes and Fairbanks in Illinois tonight with an address to students at the University of Chicago. Mrs. Jessie Hardy MacKaye, of Washington, D. C., presided.

Miss Martin said in part: "The Democratic party is the only party which stands today committed against national action. We commend Charles E. Hughes for his statesman-like position in declaring unequevically for the National woman suffrage amendment."

WRECK IS LOCATED.

Captain Stillson Engaged in Saving a Million Dollar Cargo.

Newport News, Va., August 22. — Captain George Stillson, commanding the expedition of three tugs engaged in salvaging the million dollar cargo of the sunken steamer Merida, off the Virginia Capes, tonight states that the wreck has been located. The tugs are due to leave tomorrow morning to resume the attempt to salvage the cargo. They were forced to put into this port a few days ago for provisions and additional diving apparatus.

"The Merida lies," said Captain Stillson, "in 200 feet of water. The bottom is hard and the hull is in good condition."

RECEIVERSHIP ASKED FOR BOSTON & MAINE

Said to be Friendly Move to Straighten Financial Tangle.

Action Understood to Have Been Taken With Consent of Road's Directors. Big Debt Falls Due August 31st.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 22.—Receivership for the Boston & Maine railroad, which operates in the four northern New England states and Canada, was asked for in a bill in equity filed in the Federal Court here today. This action, in which the Intercontinental Rubber Company, of New Jersey, holder of the road's note for $51,000, appears as the petitioner, was taken with the consent of the road's directors, it is understood. A director said tonight it was a friendly proceeding, intended to simplify the task of straightening out the road's financial tangle.

The directors, who for two years have been trying to reorganize the system, met today to consider payment of $13,500,000 of indebtedness falling due August 31. They decided they had "reached the end of their rope," in the words of one of their number, and issued this statement through President J. H. Hustis:

"In the opinion of the directors of the Boston and Maine railroad, it is inexpedient to attempt a further renewal of the notes. A creditors' petition for a receiver has been filed in the United States District Court, and in due time the Boston & Maine will file its answer thereto."

The Boston & Maine railroad and its 26 leased or controlled subsidiaries operate 4,300 miles of track.

NINE MEMBERS OF THE CREW OF NORWEGIAN STEAMER LOST

Perished in Mid-Ocean When Vessel Caught Fire and Was Abandoned.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—Nine members of the crew of the Norwegian steamer Cossack, formerly the British steamer Peeress, New Orleans and Norfolk for Grange Mouth, with a cargo of gasoline in drums, were lost in mid-ocean when the steamer, afire, was abandoned on August 12.

The surviving 13 members of the Cossack crew were brought here today by the British steamer Tamaqua from Glasgow, which rescued the men from a small boat after they had been tossed about for two days in heavy weather.

According to the survivors some of the gasoline drums burst when tossed about by the rolling of the steamer in the heavy sea, the gasoline reaching the fire room. There was an explosion and the interior of the ship became a mass of flames. All hands escaped the flames and abandoned the ship in two life boats. One boat containing nine men was upset and all were lost.

The cargo of the Cossack was valued at $1,100,000.

GERMAN OFFICERS ESCAPE.

Life in French Convent Too Prosaic for Teuton Prisoners.

Toulous, France, Aug. 22.—It was learned today that 11 German officers escaped Sunday night from a convent where they were confined and four have been re-captured. The prisoners escaped through a tunnel under the walls of the convent, the construction of which must have required many weeks of digging.

Athens, Monday, Aug. 21, (via London, Aug. 22.)—An initial brigade of Russian troops has arrived at Saloniki to join the Entente Allies in the fighting in the Balkans.

BOTH THE ALLIED WINGS ARE DRIVEN BACK BY BULGARS

In the Center, However, Paris Claims Important Advances on the Saloniki Front.

SERBS HEAVIEST LOSERS

Little Change on the Western Front—Berlin Claims Heavy Fighting in the East.

Both the allied wings on the Saloniki front where the soldiers of at least seven nations are in battle, have been sent back by the Bulgarians. In the center, however, the Allies' main efforts at the entrance to the great Vardar valley, Paris reports important gains.

Nothing is said about the Russian and Italian share in the fighting and no information has been given as to their strength. The Serbians have been the heaviest losers and have been forced by on their extreme left about five miles from the Serbian-Greek frontier. They claim, however, continued progress on the other sections of the front.

On the allied right the British and French, who have crossed the Struma toward the Bulgarian frontier, have been forced back on the river.

On the western front there has been little change. The British continue their efforts to surround Thiepval and report the capture of 100 yards of German trenches in the direction of Martinquich. There has been action of importance in the French section.

For several days meagre Russian reports have insisted that nothing of importance has occurred in the east. Berlin, however, describes very heavy fighting, both on the Stokhod and in the Carpathians. An interesting feature of the Russian official statement is the intimation the Grand Duke Nicholas again is pressing his offensive in the Caucasus. For the last two days Petrograd had emphasized the fighting around Diarbekr but no important change has occurred.

London claims a heavy blow against Germany on the sea. The British submarine E-22 reports having attacked an 18,600 ton German battleship. The submarine's commander believes he sank it.

There is no news from the Italian front, where a lull has existed for several days.

ALLIES CAPTURE SERIES OF HEIGHTS WEST OF THE VARDAR

Paris, Aug. 22.—The Allies have captured a series of heights west of the Vardar river on the Saloniki front, says a war office statement. On both wings advance detachments have failed back before the counter offensive of the Bulgarians. The statement follows:

"The battle continued on August 21 on the whole front of the Allied armies on the Saloniki line. In the center the British-French forces have violently bombarded Bulgarian positions on both sides of Lake Doiron while our infantry established itself in the southern spurs of the Beles mountains.

"West of the Vardar our troops have occupied a line of heights near Ljumnica and have maintained their positions at all points in spite of violent counter attacks by the enemy.

"The Serbian army has continued its progress in the mountainous zone between the Cerna and Moglenica rivers. On the two wings the enemy, at the cost of very heavy losses, has succeded in pushing back our advance detachments. On one end of the line the covering detachment which attacked on August 20, west of Seres, Bulgarian forces more than a division in strength in order to delay the march, has fallen back on the Struma. All the passages of the river are solidly held by the Allies.

"On the extreme left wing the Serbian army, after a very hot battle lasting two days, which was undertaken to retard the advance of the right wing of the Bulgarians, has retaken its principal defensive position in the neighborhood of Lake Ostrovo."

ADVANCE OF SKIRMISHES OF THE CENTRAL POWERS CHECKED

London, Aug. 22.—British artillery has checked the advance of skirmishes of the Central Powers in a sector of the Struma front, 35 miles northeast of Saloniki, says a war office statement tonight on operations in the Balkans. Working parties entrenching opposite Kamarjan and Cavdarmah, on the same front, also were dispersed by British artillery, the statement adds. The statement says:

"On the Doiran front the situation is unchanged. On the Struma front we destroyed the railway bridge at Angista station on Sunday.

"Our mounted troops, working with the French, successfully located the enemy on a front extending from Seres to Savjak (north of the Struma). Yesterday morning advance enemy skirmishers toward Kopriva bridge were stopped by our artillery, which also dispersed enemy working parties entrenching opposite Kamarjan and Cavdarmah."

ANGLO-FRENCH ATTACKS ARE REPULSED BY THE GERMANS

Berlin, Aug. 22, (by wireless).—Heavy attacks by both the British and French on the Somme front have been repulsed by German troops, the war office announced today. The British attacked between Thiepval and Pozieres and only succeeded in capturing only succeeded in capturing one advanced salient.

South of the Somme trenches lost to the French in an attack were re-cap-

MR. SMALL WANTS GOOD TAR HEEL DELEGATION

To Attend Deeper Waterways Convention at Philadelphia.

Association Organized for the Promotion of the Intra-Coastal Waterway—Important Development for this State.

(Sptcial Star Telegram).

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22.—Referring to the next meeting of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, which convenes in Philadelphia from September 12th to 15th, inclusive, Representative Small, of North Carolina, expressed the hope that there would be a large delegation from North Carolina. This association was organized for the purpose of promoting the construction of the intra-costal waterway.

The several links from New York to Jacksonville, Fla., have been heretofore surveyed and favorable reports submitted. The only link which has been adopted by Congress is the one from Norfolk to Beaufort Inlet, which will give continuous navigation from upper Chesapeake Bay to the ocean at Beaufort Inlet with a minimum depth of 12 feet. Over $2,800,000 has already been appropriated toward the construction of this link which will complete a little more than half of the project. The fact that this link received first recognition by Congress, coupled with its conceded benefits to the commerce of North Carolina, should induce the people of the State to stand by this organization in its efforts to have the remaining links adopted by Congress.

The next link on the south extends from Beaufort harbor to the Cape Fear river, thereby giving the large domestic commerce from that river an inside passage for the traffic on that river as far up as Fayetteville. The improvement on that river as far up as Fayetteville, and this progressive city is vitally interested in the extension of the route to the Cape Fear river.

A letter addressed to Mr. Wilfred H. Schoff, secretary of the association, Crozier building, Philadelphia, Pa., will secure full information regarding the programme of the convention.

"To be prepared for commerce in peace and defense in war is common sense preparedness, and now is the time to prepare for both," said Mr. Small. The above is the sentiment which will be emphasized at this convention. The programme will include trips by steamer up the Delaware as far as Trenton and down the Delaware to Chesapeake City, which is the Delaware entrance of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal. P. R. A.

ecutives are prolonged. Some of the leaders told inquirers today that they would not have to stay in Washington more than 48 hours.

The railroad executives who are counting upon winning the President to their position in the negotiations say that the case after all is to be decided by public opinion and that this will be found to support arbitration and condemn the eight-hour day. They made public tonight several telegrams from commercial organizations throughout the country upholding arbitration for the settlement of labor disputes and opposing an eight-hour day such as the employes desire.

The cabinet discussed the situation at today's meeting and in the opinion of some of the members the danger of a strike has been greatly lessened.

It is understood that the chief object of the visit to the White House was to ask the President to state specifically how he expected the railroads to make up the millions of dollars which the managements say it will cost them to put into effect the eight-hour basis day they are asked to grant. What the President said in reply none of the committeemen would reveal. Heretofore, according to the railroad men, Mr. Wilson has dealt with this phase of the subject only in the most general terms.

Besides Messrs. Holden, Lovett and Willard, the committee of railroad presidents include Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern Railway; W. W. Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania; A. H. Smith, of New York Central; E. P. Ripley, of the Santa Fe, and Frank Trumbull, of the Chesapeake & Ohio.

Discontent Over Delay.

Discontent over being held in Washington without prospect of prompt action by the railroad managers, caused some of the brotherhood men to protest today at one of their two meetings. W. G. Lee, head of the Trainmen's Brotherhood, silenced objections, however, by urging the men to be patient and assuring them that in his belief they would not be held here more than 48 hours longer. This statement was applauded. There will be another meeting tomorrow morning.

An invitation to visit the Capitol, extended the men today by Vice President Marshall, was accepted by a large number. The Vice President addressed them cordially.

Reply to Railroads' Contentions.

The brotherhood heads, in their first formal statement since arriving in Washington, replied to various contentions of the railroad managers and presidents who are urging arbitration. The statement said that the railroads never had shown a desire to resort to arbitration unqualifiedly for settling their differences with employes. As proof of this they named 64 railway lines, all of which, they maintain, are controlled by large systems represented by the railroad managers, the employes of which never have been offered the advantages of arbitration by the railroads before. The statement declared their owners do not fear the results of a strike. The statement said in part:

The Statement in Part.

"It is true that the executives of the four brotherhoods advocated the passage of the Newlands Act and they did so under the mistaken belief (which subsequent experience has shattered) that its terms would be carried out in good faith by the representatives of the companies.

"The sincerity of this new-born and loudly proclaimed belief as expressed by the spokesmen of the railway presidents—'it is essentially the common right of every citizen, of whatever station in life, to be heard, to have his day in court', and 'we stand for the principle of arbitration for the settlement of industrial disputes,' and the further statement by the chairman of the conference committee of managers, 'If we are to throw arbitration into the scrap heap, what hopes can there be in America for industrial peace in the future'—is best shown by the attiture of these railway companies who are loudly proclaiming the virtues of arbitration and their undying adherence thereto; by the attitude of those same companies toward arbitration on a long list of properties which they absolutely own and control but which they have refused to include in the present negotiations and to the men on which lines they are refusing their 'day in court,' so feelingly referred to by the spokesman of the railway presidents."

Here followed the list of 64 properties which, the statement said, the brotherhood officials sought futilely in June 27 to have represented by the railroad managers in the present dispute.

"In addition to these," the statement continued, "are a large number of quasi independent properties largely dominated by the same financial powers, which we have vainly demanded should be included.

"These properties employ comparatively small numbers of men and on account of that fact, the railway management feel that demands on those properties do not constitute a menace as they do on the larger properties. Therefore, the right to their 'day in court' is continuously refused and any arrangement, settlement or agreement to arbitrate made with the managers' committee would not apply on those lines. Thus the actual position of the conference committee and of the presidents above them, that on lines where men are not strong enough to force a hearing, there is 'nothing to arbitrate' while in lines where a costly contest could be precipitated, arbitration becomes the dearest principle connected with the settlement of industrial strife.

"It might be pertinent at this time to refer to the fact that the conference committee of managers and their supporters have excluded the army of brakemen and firemen employed on the Southern railways from all benefits that might be granted in these negotiations or from all arbitrations that might arise. Are they or are they not entitled to their 'day in court'?

"Likewise, the white firemen employed on those lines where the negro predominates. Why is he excluded from the benefits of this beneficent plan of arbitration?

"Also the hostlers on 18 of the leading properties that are represented by the conference committee; if arbitration is so desirable, why will these companies not grant that boon to those men?

"The extreme solicitude on the part of the railway presidents for the 80 per cent of unorganized employes and their rights becomes farcical when it is known that on a large number of those lines it is a dischargeable offense on any of their railways for that 80 per cent to take steps toward organizing for the purpose of bettering their wage or working conditions. These unorganized principles realize better than any one else can that their only hope for better wages, shorter hours or better working conditions lies in their being established by organized labor."

Washington, August 22. — Bills for investigation for a suitable site for a naval armor plant at or near Goshen, or Buena Vista, Va., were introduced today by Representative Flood, of Virginia.

W. A. TAYLOR HAS JOINED RANKS OF TANLAC BOOSTERS

Superintendent of Bemborke Park Declares: "I Think Tanlac a Good Medicine and Recommend it to all Sufferers."

Now comes W. A. Taylor, Superintendent of Bembroke Park, with more good words for Tanlac. "I think Tanlac a good medicine and recommend it to all who are suffering and hope my statement reaches them,' he explained to the Tanlac Man who meets the public daily at the Bellamy Drug Store.

"Before taking Tanlac, I suffered from loss of appetite and sleep, because of indigestion. And I have gained so much from it already that I'm going through with the full treatment; that's why I am here for more bottles of it."

That part of Mr. Taylor's statement: "I have gained so much from it already," and "that's why I am here for more bottles of it," spells Tanlac success.

Tanlac is an herbal remedy, and was designed to combat maladies that are so prevalent today—stomach, liver and kidney ills; indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, nervousness, blood impurities, rheumatism, catarrh, sick headaches and loss of energy, weight, appetite and sleep. Tanlac aids nature in performing its functions by going to the seat of trouble and building health and strength through the blood and nerves, after having banished congested impurities.

the pending bill would raise $205,000,000; the bond issue $130,000,000, leaving a balance of $29,243,000 to be taken care of by the general fund of the Treasury, which he said amounted to $134,327,595 on August 16, last.

Referring to the proposed $130,000,000 bond issue for Mexican expenditures, Senator Simmons said Panama bonds could be used to reimburse the treasury and added that up to this time the Democratic party had issued no Panama canal bonds, whereas the Republicans during the Roosevelt and Taft administrations sold $134,000,000 worth.

Senator Root asserted that the Democratic party had not kept the pledges of retrenchment and economy and charged it with "wasteful and useless expenditures too long for enumeration."

Just before adjournment Senator Penrose introduced a resolution to recommit the revenue bill to the Finance committee with instructions that it be amended to raise an equitable portion of required revenue from a protective tariff. No action was taken on the proposal.

NOTHING KNOWN OF ATTACK ON AMERICAN STEAMER OSWEGO

German Authorities Have No Information of Any Kind.

Berlin, Saturday, Aug. 19, (via London, Aug 22.)—Concerning the American note in the case of the steamer Oswego, said to have been fired upo by a submarine, the statement was made this morning that the German naval authorities have received no information of any sort in this connection, the American note being the first intimation here concerning the matter.

Efforts are being made by the authorities, it was said, to clear up the case.

The Hague, via London, Aug. 22.—It is understood that the American steamer Oswego, 2,612 tons, arrived in Rotterdam about a week ago and that her captain reported he had been fired on by a German submarine off the Isle of Wight.

FIRST GRAND REVIEW OF THE PUNITIVE EXPEDITION HELD.

Troops in Mexico Show Their Preparedness to Fight Any Foe.

Field Headquarters of the American Punitive Expedition in Mexico, Aug. 22. (by Aeroplane to Columbus, N. M., Aug. 22.)—Punitive preparedness was exemplified today in a review of the 5,000 American troops on station here.

Infantrymen, cavalrymen and artillerymen, hardened by months of active service and re-equipped, marched past Brigadier General Pershing in the first grand review held since the troops crossed the frontier March 15.

Bronzed by the sun, the Americans showed in their very carriage their discipline and their efficiency. Veteran officers could not restrain words of praise. The general himself was deeply stirred. Five months of arduous service under a burning sun, followed by rest, drill and good food had welded them into a fighting machine that, according to one high officer, was ready to face an equal or a greater number of any of the world's best fighting men.

St. Louis, Aug. 23.—Frank Troeh, of Vancouver, Wash., won the national amateur single championship in the first day of the trap shooting tournament of the interstate association held here today, breaking 99 out of 100 targets. Troeh had a run of 79 straight.

Press Comments

New York Evening Sun.—Alice Eversman in the title role broke all operatic customs by appearing to be a beautiful Aida and her voice rose with sweetness and power to the remote part of the gallery.

Berlin, Vossische Zeitung.—Elena de Sayn presented herself as technically mature, also energetic and temperamental artist. She played with a large, penetrating tone.

Odessa, Odessky Courier.—The young violinist Elena de Sayn has a large, agreeable tone, the feeling of measure, and plays without unnecessary underlinings. Her exceptional technic allows her to master the most difficult passages, and her appearance on the stage makes an extremely agreeable impression.

The Brooklyn Daily Eagle.—Alice Eversman displayed a virile and expressive soprano voice; brought enthusiastic applause.

Toronto World, Toronto, Canada.—Alice Eversman's voice is a soprano of remarkable sweetness and clearness, and her singing, combined with her finished acting, brought forth repeated applause, especially after the emotional final prison scene.

The London, (Eng.) Standard. — Elena de Sayn's method is sound and effective and she also possesses a tone which is distinguished by confidence and purity, and her interpretations showed that she had an intelligent outlook on her art. Her performance was notable for smooth phrasing and accurate technique; in fact, she had little difficulty in putting the music in the most favorable light.

WHOLESOME COMEDY FEATURES NORFOLK-ROCKY MOUNT GAME

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 22.—What was lacking in baseball in today's game—and there was a whole lot—was made up in unalloyed wholesome comedy. Although the score was 15 to 2, the chief matter of interest to those who visited the ball park was the comedy of George Kirscher. This fellow kept the stands in an uproar and at one stage, while he was on the mound in the ninth, had Umpire Cauliflower so confused over a ludicrous protest that it nearly became necessary to stop play, while a moment later the runner was nailed when he couldn't get back to the bag because of the jarring at his risibles. Score:

PLENTY OF SURPRISES IN RACING AT NORTH RANDALL

Cleveland, O., Aug. 22.—While two favorites were winners today in the Grand Circuit races at North Randall, surprises were plenty, outsiders and "dark" horses getting their share of the glory. Lee Axworthy trotted an exhibition mile in 2:00 1-4, breaking the world's record for stallions by three-quarters of a second. The record, 2:01, was held by The Harvester.

In the 2:18 trot, Sister Strong won the first two heats and the race, the third heat being taken by Brescia, the favorite.

Diumeter, the favorite in the 2:12 pace, had little trouble in winning the two opening miles of the race, but the third heat Tommy Murphy, with The Problem, shot across in the lead.

In the Glenville three-year trot, Harrod's Creek, a Kentucky horse, and the favorite, made the riffle in two straight heats, Maple Tree giving the Creek some hot competition right up to the wire.

LUMBERTON DEFEATS THE PARKTON TEAM, SIX TO FOUR

Lumberton, N. C., Aug. 22.—Lumberton tightened its hold on first place in the Cape Fear League today by winning a ragged game from Parkton 6 to 4. The visitors scored twice in the initial frame on slow work by Lumberton in the field. The locals came back with one and went two ahead in the fourth. Hodgin scored two of the locals' tallies and drove in two getting two doubles and a sacrifice. Persons and Correll hit doubles. Practically all of Parkton's hits were scratches.

THE BATTING LEADERS.

The three leading batsmen in the National League failed to get a hit in five times at bat today, but in the American League both Cobb and Jackson gained a little on Tris Speaker. Jackson made two hits in three times at bat and gained two points. Cobb got as many in four times, while Speaker made by one hit in four times at bat and slipped back a point.

Robertson and Chase each failed to get a hit out of two times at bat, which droupped Chase's average below that of Wagner, who did not play. Daubert was sent to bat in a pinch but could not connect with the ball. The standing:

RESULTS OF MEN'S TENNIS TOURNAMENT AT ASHEVILLE

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 22.—In the men's singles of the open tennis tournament at the Asheville Country Club today, Walter Dwyer, New Orleans, defeated F. W. Thomas 6-4, 1-6, 9-7; R. B. Logan, New Orleans, defeated R. H. Saal, New Orleans, 6-4, 6-2; F. W. Capers, Augusta, Ga., defeated George Arthur, Asheville, 7-5, 6-3; J. W. Erwin, Spartanburg, S. C., defeated J. E. Doyle, Spartanburg, 4-6, 6-7, 7-5; J. O. Erwin, Spartanburg, defeated L. A. Brooks, Brevard, N. C., 6-4, 4-6, 7-5; J. A. Means, Knoxville, defeated J. L. Chambers, Charlotte, 6-4, 7-5; Carlton Y. Smith, Atlanta, defeated Reeves Rutledge, Asheville, 6-2, 6-1.

In the men's doubles F. W. Capers and Rutledge Capers, of Augusta, defeated J. E. Dayle and S. J. Zimmerman, of Spartanburg; Byron M. Grant and Carlton Y. Smith, of Atlanta, defeated L. A. Brooks and J. S. Counselman, of Brevard, N. C.; J. A. Means, Knoxville, Tenn., and F. W. Thomas, Asheville, defeated A. M. Law, Spartanburg and C. P. Wofford, Spartanburg; W. L. Carey, Greenville, S. C., and P. H. Winston, Chapel Hill, N. C., defeated R. M. Cleveland, Marietta, S. C., and M. B. Prevost, Greenville, S. C.

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 22—Maurice E. McLoughlin, formerly national tennis champion, and Ichiya Kumagae, the Japanese expert, defaulted their matches today in the Meadow Club tennic tournament. Hashishiro Makami, of Japan, lost to Rowland Roberts, of San Francisco, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1. There was considerable criticism of McLoughlin's withdrawal because of assurances that he intended to compete. The extreme heat and the approach of the national tournament next week were the chief reasons for the defaults.

NEGRO MURDERER SENTENCED.

Will Howard Gets Three Months for Killing Ben Farrall.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug. 22.—The capital case of the negro, Will Howard, for the killing of Ben Farrall, another negro, in the dredging camp on Nahunta swamp, was given a jury trial for manslaughter and the jury returned a verdict accordingly with a prayer for light punishment. Judge Stacy sentenced him to three months in jail with the privilege of being hired out and he was promptly hired.

The case of the negro Floyd Winn, of Mt. Olive, for storebreaking, was submitted and the defendant given a sentence of three years on the roads.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily and mailed to subscribers outside the county at $6 per year; $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months or served by carrier in the city and suburbs at 60c. per month, or, when paid in advance, $7.00 per year; $3.50 for six months, $1.75 for three months

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1.00; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may rest assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina. Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to the readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51. Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted, and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected, unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable and all communications should be addressed to

THE WILMINGTON STAR CO

TUESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1916.

A man can't be trusted to keep house because he would keep it in a regular mess. Men have never gotten rid of their cave men instincts.

Col. Roosevelt is keeping quiet while Judge Hughes is gold bricking the Westerners. Of course, that is the way any accomplice would do.

"Make others happy" advises an author. He ought to give the rule for that, when most everybody persists in making each other miserable.

Market Quotation: North Carolina hams, shoulders and sides, strong in favor, unyielding in price, and sellers are as independent as hogs on ice.

The lady who advertised for a married man to work around the house, evidently judges the value of a man who had been trained by a regular house trainer, at home.

A naturalist says that a bat is able in one night to absorb food three times their own weight. Gee! That night record is almost equal to the day record of "mommer's little boy."

A New York woman offers a reward of $5 for the return of her missing husband. Maybe after everybody else throws him down, the old man will return himself to get the five.

Georgia is getting to be progressive. The legislature has at last established a state highway commission. North Carolina's commission has proved its worth to the State, although it does not give itself as much publicity as it ought to do.

Roosevelt promoted the presidency of Taft, but he afterward called the professor a gold brick. He is now trying to elect Hughes, but it may turn out later that his opinion of the Judge is that he is a bundle of green goods that ain't a thing but sawdust when the box is opened.

A doctor who claims that he has kept accurate statistics, declares that only six men out of 100,000 are bitten by snakes. However, men will consider that no argument against hoarding up the Kentucky remedy for snake bite. It is customary for each man to fear that if a snake is going to bite anybody, it is more than apt to bite him.

We had better build more merchant ships than even the large number now under construction. The ship yard at Wilmington ought to be kept busy on the class of vessels now under construction. North Carolina capital put into a few more ships would be a splendid investment. They can be either sold at a good profit or be operated in and out of the port of Wilmington.

A Missouri man believing that he had discovered a snake lying in the road dismounted from his automobile and belabored it with a stick until he discovered that it wasn't any snake. He claims that it was a section of rubber buggy tire, but he makes it worse by saying that it tried to bite him, just as if it were a regular snake. He refers to it as a remarkable delusion. But in North Carolina, prior to the days of prohibition, it is what was called the "jimmies."

Maybe the Republican party thinks this country ought to have a protective tariff. However, it does not need one that the Republicans would enact. The last one they imposed on the country drove two-thirds of the Republican party into the Progressive party. The people resented it as a monstrous imposition, and the breach it caused in the G. O. P. made Woodrow Wilson president. People who resent the idea that they can be compelled by law to pay tribute to the privileged trusts and special interests had better keep the Democratic party in Washington to protect them from the greed of tariff grafters.

NORTH CAROLINA AND LIVESTOCK

The South Carolina Agricultural Department and Clemson College have long been engaged in promoting the livestock industry and the several farm industries dependent upon cattle, hogs and sheep. The Mississippi department and the state A. and M. college also are waging a persistent and powerful campaign in behalf of livestock raising and the agricultural industries—such as creameries, condenseries, cheese factories and the like. That state now has eleven butter factories, one of which is a co-operative institution, and ten that are operated by private capital.

The North Carolina department and the A. and M. college have been keenly alive along some of these lines, but we believe that now is the time to engage in just such campaigns as are being carried on in South Carolina, where two packing house establishments have recently been promoted with the assistance of the agricultural department and Clemson College. Wilmington is engaged in a strenuous packing house campaign, as our agricultural authorities must know, but so far the department has failed to identify itself with the movement. It is not too late, however, but we say this merely as a reminder in this one instance.

Mississippi's cotton growing industry was hit a great blow by the boll weevil, but in one respect it has been a blessing. It forced Mississippi to abandon the one crop idea, and she wisely decided that her greatest opportunity to get away from a monotonous system of agriculture was through livestock farming, because diversified farming is impractical without the livestock that will consume the grain and forage crops. As the University of North Carolina News Letter aptly observes, "marketing feed crops on four legs is far ahead of marketing such crops on four wheels."

Mississippi has found out that there is something better than growing cotton, and she is rapidly increasing her meat animal output. In five years her hog production was increased by 325,000 animals, valued at the lowest calculation at $3,200,000. Her hog wealth increased at the rate of $600,000 a year, and yet the campaign at present is to make that record a trifle in comparison. The financiers of the entire state are enthusiastically backing the pig clubs, the baby beef clubs, etc.

The Star often has urged that North Carolina's greatest opportunity lies in livestock, and the North Carolina University's studies in farm economics and sociology bears out that proposition with the most forcible logic. The A. and M. colleges in South Carolina and Mississippi are not only vigorously committed to that line of farm extension but are demonstrating it by sending their representatives broadcast to speak and work and promote. Such work is going to revolutionize agriculture in the South and greatly increase the low average farm wealth that is the result of one crop farming.

WILSON'S FAITH IN THE PEOPLE.

President Wilson has as much faith in the people as did the lamented Zeb Vance, the yet idolized North Carolina statesman. Nothing could swerve Vance from believing that the masses of people could be implicitly trusted and no amount of argument could induce him to oppose the will of the yeomanry of the State. Invariably President Wilson has relied implicitly upon the popular will, and so far as what becomes of his effort to settle the pending strike of 400,000 trainmen of America, he declares, "Let the people be the jury."

By nature, President Wilson is for the people and it is quite natural that his whole four years' administration has been in the interest of the people and of America as a whole. The Wilson administration has not been subservient to wealth, but it has done business without taking the plutocratic class into special consideration. This is the reason that element will put its barrel of money up on Hughes, and will share none of its huge slush fund with the Democrats. The fact that Wilson stands no showing in the favor of that clan is plain evidence that he has made this a people's government once more. A government for the people and by the people is never popular with the invisible government which used to control Republican administrations from headquarters in Wall Street.

Wilson's hopes lie with the people, and they will have to elect him if he is to be chosen President for another four years of constructive Democratic government in the interest of the American people.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS PORK.

We tremble for the needed and necessary improvement of the James river up to Richmond every time we see a "pork barrel" editorial in the esteemed Richmond Times-Dispatch. The "pork barrel" is a peculiarly Northern discovery and it applies to government appropriations for Southern waterways and for government buildings in the South. For some reason or other the "pork barrel" is a favorite editorial subject for the Times-Dispatch, and here is one of its latest on the subject of "Public Buildings Pork:"

"Nothing more indefensible has been proposed during the sessions of Congress than the $25,000,000 for the construction of perhaps 100 Federal buildings in towns with from 500 to 5,000 population. This measure is already drawn, and due for presentation to Congress before the end of this week. If ever a time existed when every species of legislative "pork" should be outlawed, that time is the present, when Congress is planning to spend $650,000,000 to finance a national defense policy. We have an army in the field in anticipation of war, and may at any minute be compelled to increase its numbers. In this season of national emergencies, it really is amazing that Democratic leaders of the House should permit the introduction of such a public buildings bill. This measure as it has been outlined, not even has the fact to its credit that it provides increased postal facilities for the larger cities now wretchedly congested. It is designed to encourage the people of the small towns to favor present members of Congress with further support. That is literally all the bill has to stand on.—Richmond Times Dispatch."

Perhaps the circumstances justify the foregoing at this time when money is more badly needed for national defense, but ordinarily it is not a good idea for Southern papers to arouse an "anti-pork" spirit in view of the fact that the South gets such a comparatively small portion of it for either public buildings or for meritorious waterways projects.

The fact is, when the government has money that is not otherwise badly needed, it is economical for it to construct its own postoffice and customs buildings all over the country. Until the government furnishes its own buildings it is compelled to be a renter, and the exorbitant rents generally paid would more than pay the interest on a large expenditure for buildings where they are needed most. Few think of this side of the question, but the fact is it pays the government to build instead of renting. Of course, in instances of extravagances in buildings in a few places it is different, but most public buildings in our cities are very modest concerns which the city soon outgrows, as was the case at Charlotte and which now is the case in Wilmington, where our postoffice building is much too small for Uncle Sam's growing business.

THE LEATHER INDUSTRY FLOURISHES.

The American Hide & Leather Company reports that during the fiscal year ended June 30, the company's profits were $2,758,360, and that the volume of business during the fiscal year increased $4,500,000 over that of the previous year. The company also earned a surplus of $1,654,991, compared with $959,974 in 1915. The net profits over all charges, the report says, "were the largest in the history of the company". Isn't that just one more instance showing that "temporary prosperity" is about the same or a little better than the Republican kind of prosperity which, in the past, has varied about like the weather, including its panic storm periods and all?

The company sold its sole leather tanneries to another big concern and will hereafter confine its operations to upper leather and upholstering stock. The sole leather interest has been sold to the Howes Bros. Co., and the Michigan Tannery & Extract Co. The sole leather tanneries sold to the new purchasers are at Munsining and Manistee, Mich., and at Merrill, Wis. The plants were sold for $2,000,000.

It is curious that the great leather industry of the United States is confined almost exclusively to the North and West, but once the South establishes the livestock and packing house industries, the tanning industry also will grow up in North Carolina and other states. Men living today remember when North Carolina and other Southern states manufactured every pound of leather used in the South. In those days high class custom shoe shops could be found in every village in North and South Carolina. When we get our tanning industry back, more states than Virginia and Missouri will have great shoe factories in operation.

AN OLD RAILROAD MAN WRITES

To the Editor of The Star:

Twenty-four years ago last winter Tom Lawther and H. O. McArthur, engineer and conductor, left Wilmington about two o'oclock in the afternoon with through freight No. 80 for Weldon. It was very foggy about ten o'clock when I, as operator at Waldon, gave orders to No. 15, a Yankee train, for Florida. To the second section I gave orders to follow in twenty minutes instead of ten.

About an hour later I heard "BU" call "KY." I woke up and listened to see why Battleboro was up so late. He said No. 15 had run into No. 80 as it was pulling in siding and wound up by saying "a general mess." John Hessenger, who was running No. 15, was put in charge of the wreck, which was caused by Lawther thinking he had 11 minutes to get in the siding, when he had only one. Only engine and a car or two were in when No. 15 came around the curve in the fog and hit him.

No one was hurt, but it took from then till next night about ten o'clock for the wreck to be cleared and Lawther and McArthur to get their trains into Weldon. They had been on duty twenty-four hours longer than their regular schedule time, which was usually about eight hours—long enough—but now listen what happened.

After having been up on duty, or without sleep or rest all this time (32 hours), I gave Lawther orders immediately to run light to Wilmington—162 miles—and be his own conductor, too. Had he had an awful wreck on this trip no human could have blamed him. It was too much to expect of a human being, still in those days nothing of this kind was considered by the officials, that I could tell.

This is a day of organizations—from the nurse to the undertaker—so we are first and last and all the time handled by "organized labor," "union made," "union handled" and "union buried." The railroads organize, so do the men, and now there is a war on to show which is the stronger in the United States, and as it is for protection no doubt the men will win, and eventually the government will own the roads as Bryan suggested ten years ahead of his time and lost the presidency thereby. Then eight hours work will be the rule.

The fight now on was brought on by such incidents as I described above. It was nothing in those days for a man to be on duty from 24 to 48 hours without sleep or rest, and not an extra cent for it. Nothing was ever heaped on mortals in this line more unbearable than when the Plant System bought out the Coast Line and after moving their offices to Wilmington put their system of bookkeeping in vogue. We agents were almost murdered with it, and we then organized—for protection. The result has been good.

If a strike comes it will be of very short duration, and as the victory will be so overwhelming in the men's favor, it is probable than other demands will be made and finally result in Uncle Sam's taking charge of the whole business and handle it the best he can for all his children. We all must have it in our business, and Uncle Sam some day may be seen dividing the cheese for the fussing cats, like the monkey of old—take it all himself. S. L. ROSE.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A few months ago the Hon. Ted Roosevelt was the idol of the Colby, Hale, Lindsay and other Progressives, but now we infer from their talk that he is a cross between a bundle of green goods and a gold brick.—New Orleans States.

As there is no infantile paralysis menace in Charlotte and none likely to develop, the school authorities manifested good judgment in electing that the schools shall open at the regular date set. The health situation in Charlotte is pretty well safeguarded and the opening of the schools on schedule would be no violation of the policy of safety first.—Charlotte Observer.

Next March the office of President of the United States will be 128 years old. Of the total, 110 1-2 years are accounted for by men who were elected President, and 17 1-2 years by men who were elected Vice-President and were promoted by chance to first place. This mathematical relation makes it more difficult than ever to understand why the Vice-Presidency should have become something to be earnestly avoided. On the part of the public it is criminal indifference or ignorance which would make a joke out of an office laden with grave potentialities. Seemingly, the two instances of Andrew Johnson and Theodore Roosevelt ought to be enough to show that the office of Vice-President does carry with it the possibilities of ill or good for the nation. What is still harder to understand is the attitude of the public man whose ambitions reach out to the White House. One chance out of fifty to be nominated for President is enough to spur on an aspirant to years of effort for the prize, whereas the figures show that a Vice-President has one chance in six or seven to become President.—New York Evening Post.

It is unfair to Mr. Hughes to say that he has no issues at all. He has issues, and he is discussing them with great force and fury. Civilization is in the midst of the most terrible crisis of modern history. Two-thirds of the world is at war. Nearly 10,000,000 men have already been killed and wounded. It has required the utmost skill on the part of the President to keep the United States from being drawn into this welter of blood. But for him American boys would be dying daily by the thousands in the trenches of Europe. Nevertheless, the country is not wholly satisfied. There are Americans who believe that the President has not dealt harshly enough with Germany and too harshly with the allies. There are Americans who believe he has not dealt harshly enough with the allies and too harshly with Germany. He is criticised by pro-American Americans and by pro-ally Americans, and Mr. Hughes assures us that the great issue is 'America First and Efficient." To show his strong moral and political convictions on this dominant issue, Mr. Hughes is yelling his lungs sore because a son of the late Magistrate Finn was appointed to a place in the customs service. He has been burning up the prairies with the direful tidings that a Democrat succeeded a Republican as director of the census. Somebdy has informed him that many Southern Democrats by reason of seniority of service in the House of Representatives are chairmen of important committees. Mr. Hughes promptly waves the bloody shirt and begins to scream about sectionalism. Between times he courteously and graciously insinuates that President Wilson is a crook who is probably stealing money out of the United States Treasury and ought to be investigated. Mr. Hughes has been the Republican candidate for a little more than two months, and, assisted by his great experience, he has succeeded in putting the Republican national campaign on the same intellectual level as an ordinary aldermanic contest.—New York Times.

TO BUILD STEEL STEAMERS

Two to be Constructed, One at Elizabeth City and One at New Bern.

(Special Star Correspondence).

New Bern, N. C., Aug. 22.—The M. H. Tracy Company, who are to operate a line of steamers between New Bern and Northern ports, have made arrangements to have two immense steel freight steamers built in North Carolina. One of these is to be constructed at Elizabeth City and the other in New Bern.

The New Bern Iron Works Company have been awarded the contract for furnishing the material for the steamer to be built here and they will also aid in the work. Active operations on the building of the boats will begin within a week or two and they will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

HEALTH IS WEALTH by John B. Huber, A.M., M.D.

The practical problem is to get health information to employers and employees so that it may be put into practical, effective use.—GOMPERS.

How To Prevent Hydrophobia.

THE only way to prevent hydrophobia is to prevent it; and that is, by administrative measures. England not only has a muzzling order; but, what's more, she enforces it. The result? Hydrophobia used to be very rife in the Tight Little Island; it is now practically unknown there. In matter-of-fact North Germany those who idolize dogs at the expense of human life, get no sympathy; dogs have to be muzzled or leashed by law; and whereas there used to be a great deal of rabies in Germany the disease is now practically eliminated from that country. When stray dogs are captured methodically and without let up hydrophobia diminishes progressively to the vanishing point. When the pursuit of the civic mongrel is relaxed, rabies, again raises up its horrid front, and the number of its victims increases. All dogs that are worth the price of a muzzle or a leash ought to be muzzled or leashed. The rest should be destroyed. After all, the best and happiest fate for the unclaimed dog and the starving stray mongrel, is the blessed nepenthe afforded by the city or town pound; or, really far best of all, the pathological laboratory, where those wicked vivisectors work under the shameless pretense of benefiting humankind. And remember that besides rabid dogs there may be rabid cats, horses, cattle, pigs, rats, wolves, foxes, bears, skunks and jackals; the dog's bite is generally responsible for the disease in those animals. Wolf bites are most dangerous by reason of the savage character of the wound, and the virulence of the virus. Cat bites come next, and then dog bites, next in order of virulence foxes, jackals, horses, asses, cattle, sheep, pigs. Bites on exposed surfaces are more dangerous than through the clothing because saliva is wiped from the teeth on the latter and little or none enters the wound. Long-haired dogs and sheep often escape infection, for the same reason. Face bites are the most dangerous. Not every one bitten by a mad dog develops rabies—16.6 per cent. is about the proportion.

LIGHT BROWN SPOTS.

X. Y. Z. writes: 1. What is the cause of light brown spots on my face? 2. I have been told that those spots indicate that sooner or later in life one will have cancer trouble; is this so? The spots first appeared at the outer angle of the eyes and have spread upon the forehead and down on my cheeks; the spots that came first are much larger now. I am 35 years old.

Answer: These spots are called chloasma, an excessive deposit of pigment in the skin such as is apt to come on in women approaching middle life. 2. They do not; it is not so; possibly, however, cancer may result in cases where women have gone to the "beauty doctor" for the removal of facial blemishes. The discolorations that may be removed by local measures are apt to recur.

FLATULENCE.

X. Y. Z. writes: What is the cause of gas in the bowels? It doesn't seem to make any difference what I eat; for the last six months I seem to be bothered considerable.

Answer: The undue generation of gases in the stomach and intestines is called flatulence. The principal cause is fermentation or decomposition of the stomach and bowel contents, usually induced by nervousness or by embarrassed function. It is very common in dyspepsia. The weak and the aged suffer most. Constipation and liver disorders are causative. The treatment must be according to the underlying cause, as the family doctor should direct. In general terms constipation must be avoided, plenty of water must be drunk, especially between meals; and the following foods are best avoided; fat meat or fish, sausage, pan cakes, fresh bread, pastries, onions, carrots, turnips, tomatoes, cabbage, corn, salads and strong condiments.

ROTARIANS STILL WANT BRIDGE ACROSS RIVER

Chairman McGirt of County Board, Makes Record Clear.

Mr. John W. Greer Explains Packing House Proposition and Boosters Endorse It—The Atlanta Spirit is Explained.

While the proposed packing house for Wilmington was enthusiastically endorsed by the Wilmington Rotary Club following brief explanations of the project by Messrs. John W. Gree and W. W. Love and while cordial greetings were extended Rotarian Kendall Weisiger, of Atlanta, Ga., who very clearly defined how the banner city of the Cracker State manages to do so many things to get it on the map, the main feature of the meeting of the booster organization yesterday was a discussion of the Board of Commissioners, who is Fear river.

President Roger Moore wanted to know if the petition of the Board of Commissioners for a hearing before the United States Engineer had ever been gotten in proper shape and was informed by Chairman W. A. McGirt, of the Board of Commissioners, who is an enthusiastic members of the Rotary Club, that following a meeting of the board on Saturday afternoon a petition was presented to Capt. C. S. Ridley, United States engineer, which, however was not acceptable, and that it was probable that another meeting would be held today to get the petition in shape.

Chairman McGirt explained his position on the bridge question, stating that after very careful consideration he had come to the conclusion that a ferry was the most feasible proposition. He also explained the misunderstanding that had arisen, stating that it had never been the intention of the board to go on record as favoring the building of a bridge but that the resolution adopted had been designed merely to secure information.

After Chairman McGirt had answered numerous questions from about every Rotarian present, President Roger Moore moved the adoption of a resolution that in view of the apparent deadlock between the Board of Commissioners and Capt. C. S. Ridley that the Rotary Club go on record as earnestly requesting that the commissioners not put anything in the way of filing the petition, without in any way expressing any prejudice to the personal position of the members of the board and at the same time expressing perfect confidence in the board and its good intentions.

Upon Chairman McGirt's assurance that he was doing everything he could to get the matter in proper shape before Captain Ridley, the resolution was withdrawn but not until some rapid fire discussions in which it was made very clear that the Rotary Club wants a bridge very much.

"I beg that you gentlemen turn your attention to building up the land side of your port," urged Mr. John W. Greer, in urging that a packing house be built, "and by helping the farmers it will react upon the city. You can do nothing better for your city than build a packing house."

Mr. Greer spoke of the brotherhood of business, which he said is becoming more and more evident. He ascribed this as one of the basic elements of the marvelous success that Atlanta has achieved.

Mr. W. W. Love pointed out that this is the day of the young man and that it is up to the young men of Wilmington to get a market here for the surrounding country. The hog, he said, is the clearing house of the farm. The proposed packing house is one proposition, he stated, which has been thoroughly investigated.

Upon motion of Chairman McGirt, seconded by Mr. George P. Galvin, the proposed packing house was endorsed and a special committee appointed to co-operate with those who are promoting it. This committee is composed of Messrs. Milton Calder, George P. Galvin and W. A. McGirt.

Mr. Kendall Weisiger, formerly secretary of the Atlanta Rotary Club, after telling how Atlanta secured the next meeting of the International Association of Rotary Clubs, extended a very cordial invitation to all the local Rotarians to attend this gathering.

Mr. Paul B. Bell was called to the chair by President Roger Moore and Secretary Meares Harriss kept a record of the proceedings.

A. C. L.'S GOOD SHOWING

On a "Peace Footing" But Had Good Fear Nevertheless.

Under adverse conditions this last fiscal year, says the Financial World, Atlantic Coast Line earned its 5 per cent, dividend twice over. The system has been benefited not at all from the war business, grain, explosives, iron and steel and munitions being foreign altogether to its business. Hence, it is a peace stock essentially and if it has been able to do so well in an adverse year, showing 10 per cent for its stock, against 6:26 per cent in the previous fiscal year, the stock is likely to be heard from when peace conditions once more rule. Exports of phosphate rock, an important article of freight on this line, have dwindled because the bulk of this went to the Central Powers of Europe. Cotton production this year in the road's territory will be more than a million bales than last year, and this will have to be taken into account. Altogether there are many adverse as well as favorable features of the outlook, but if peace comes the chances favor a broader volume of traffic on the whole than is now being shown.

SIXTH ANNUAL MEETING

Woman's Missionary Union of Wilmington Association Meets at Willard

The sixth annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Wilmington Baptist Association will meet at Willard on Friday and Saturday of this week. It is expected that there will be quite a large delegation from Wilmington in attendance and it is hoped that practically every church in the association will be represented.

An attractive programme has been arranged for the occasion including a number of addresses.

COLORED CONVICT IS SHOT

Manuel Pearce Was Shot and Probably Fatally Wounded Yesterday Afternoon by Mr. Grady Cook.

Manuel Pearce, alias Peno, serving a term on the county roads, was shot in the abdomen about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Mr. Grady Cook, driver of the county automobile truck, while the two men were sitting on the seat of the truck at the intersection of the Fort Fisher and Carolina Beach roads. Mr. Cook had a revolver in his hands at the time and it appears it was accidentally discharged in some manner.

The injured convict was immediately driven to Carolina Beach in the truck by Mr. Cook, who reported the matter to Road Superintendent R. A. Burnett, who was fishing from the pier at that place. The injured man was given every attention, and when the truck stopped near the Beach Hotel several ladies came out and placed ice over the wound, which bled scarcely on the outside. As soon as Mr. Burnett was able to start his machine, the victim of the accident was removed to the James Walker Memorial Hospital. At the hospital, the negro was operated on, and it was found that the bullet which entered the abdomen on the right side had punctured the intestines in several places. It was discovered that he was suffering from an internal hemorrhage, and more than a quart of blood was drained from his body by the surgeons.

Road Superintendent R. A. Burnett made the following statement concerning the matter last night: "The shooting was purely accidental. The truck driver, Mr. Grady Cook, and the convict Pearce were sitting on the front seat of the truck, at the intersection of the Fort Fisher and Carolina Beach roads, when a revolver which Mr. Cook had in his hands was accidentally discharged, the bullet taking effect in Pearce's abdomen. It happened about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. I brought the injured man to the James Walker Memorial Hospital in my automobile."

Justice George Harriss accompanied by Solicitor George L. Peschau visited the hospital shortly after 10 o'clock last night and took the negro's dying declaration, the surgeons at the hospital having stated that in their opinion there was little or no hope that he would live more than a few hours. According to the negro's statements, as taken down by Justice Harriss, at the time the revolver was discharged Mr. Cook was wiping it off with a cloth. The negro stated that he asked Mr. Cook to be a little more careful, and that a moment later the gun was discharged.

Mr. Cook was not taken into custody last night, but it is understood that he is ready to give bond this morning, should it be required of him.

So far, the authorities have not taken any action in the matter, except the precaution of taking the negro's statement as to how the shooting occurred.

IN RECORDER'S COURT

Charlie Holliday and Moses Wilson Furnish Principal Attractions

Charlie Holliday and Moses Wilson, both colored, were the principal attractions in the Recorder's court yesterday morning. Charlie was charged with being a vagrant, a chronic idler, and several other uncomplimentary things, while Mose, it was alleged, had let the heat get the best of him and had purloined a quart of ice cream from Plummer's Confectionery.

Charlie's trial took up the greater part of the session, but after he had proved that he labored at least three days every week, at a lumber pier, and really earned his bread by the sweat of his brow, Recorder Empie advised him to go his way. The only weak spot in his defense was the fact that his memory in regard to his previous terms on the chain gang was distressingly poor. His interests in court were looked after by his attorney, Williamy J. Bellamy, Esq.

Mose, however, didn't get off so light. Although he insisted that he had merely borrowed the cream and intended to let Mr. J. W. Plummer charge him with it, he had completely forgotten to inform Mr. Plummer about this part of the deal. Mose got 30 days on the roads, and it will probably be a trifle cooler when he gets out, so that he will not need ice cream to keep cool.

Sis Baldwin, colored, charged with assault and battery, was let off with the costs.

Violaters of the traffic ordinance were as usual the principal offenders of the day. Fines of $2.50 each were imposed of Messrs. A. L. Long, J. S. Toon and S. W. Sanders, and William Holmes, the latter colored.

MAIL TRUCK TAKES PLUNGE

What came near being a serious accident occurred shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afetrnoon, when one of the big auto trucks of the Cannon Automobile Company, used for carrying the mails, plunged through the railing at rear of the postoffice building, and sent both front wheels into the gutter.

The car was in charge of Chauffeur A. Swaggert, a new man, who was making a trial trip in company with an experienced driver. As he attempted to turn off Chestnut street into the postoffice grounds, something went wrong with the steering gear of the car, causing it to swerve from the driveway into the gutter which is some four feet deep at this point. After considerable labor the car was removed by means of a tackle and skids.

With the exception of a slightly bruised arm sustained by Mr. Swaggert, neither of the occupants of the car were injured, and the car was not badly damaged.

ATTENDS NORFOLK MEETING.

Oakdale Superintendent Leaves for Big Meeting in Virginia City.

Mr. J. A. Perry, superintendent of Oakdale cemetery, this city, left Monday evening for Norfolk, Va., where he will this week attend the 30th annual convention of the Association of American Cemetery Superintendents, which was called to order at the Monticello Hotel, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by President James R. Warren, Jr., of Providence, R. I. The programme includes an address of welcome by the mayor of Norfolk, responses, etc., and a business session.

The convention will be in session three days. Headquarters have been opened at the Monticello hotel. The delegates were given a sightseeing automobile trip yesterday afternoon, 68 automobiles having been already secured for the 250 or more of the visitors. A visit was made to the parks and cemeteries of the city, and the party then went to Ocean View, where the machines were dismissed, the return to the hotel being made by trolley.

VIOLATION OF WHITE SLAVE ACT ALLEGED

Federal Warrant Received In Wilmington For M. C. White

Young White Man Held in New Hanover Jail Alleged to Have Carried Girl Into South Carolina for Immoral Purposes.

A Federal warrant sworn out on June 12th before United States Commissioner E. L. Wooten, of Maxton, by Mr. J. B. Pitman, of Laurinburg, alleging that his daughter, Ruth Pitman, was carried from Laurinburg, N. C., into South Carolina by M. C. White alias M. L. White, for immoral purposes, in violation of the white slave act, was received in Wilmington yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal J. N. Fennell, having been forwarded by Deputy United States Marshal Tomlinson, of Fayetteville.

M. C. White, the young white man, against whom the Federal warrant was issued on June 12th, who was arrested in this city on Sunday night by County Officer H. Mack Godwin and Deputy Sheriff E. C. Reynolds on a warrant sworn out before Justice of the Peace George Harriss by Mr. J. B. Pitman, is still in the county jail here and when seen yesterday afternoon said that he had nothing to say but referred all inquiries to his attorneys, John D. Bellamy & Son.

The warrant received by Deputy United States Marshal Fennell yesterday had not been served last night, but the officer said he would take White to Laurinburg on Thursday of this week. It is probable that a preliminary hearing will be held in this city before United States Commissioner George Harriss, it was said yesterday.

The issuance of the warrant against White was approved by former United States District Attorney Francis D. Winston, of Windsor, it is stated, only after a full statement of the material allegations in the case had been outlined by United States Commissioner Wooten.

According to the provision of the Mann Act, under which the warrant was sworn out, if it is proved that a girl is under 18 years of age and she is coerced into going from one state to another for immoral purposes, the person guilty of the coercion is liable to imprisonment in the Federal penitentiary for a period of not more than ten years or a fine not in excess of $10,000, or both in the discretion of the judge.

According to statements made to officers here by Mr. J. B. Pitman, of Laurinburg, who came to Wilmington Sunday after he had learned that White was here, having been engaged for the last week in overhauling machinery at the Bellwill cotton mills, the young man came to Laurinburg during the fall of 1915 and lived and boarded at the home of Mr. Pitman. According to Mr. Pitman, the young man posed as a single man and "paid attention" to Miss Ruth Pitman, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. Pitman, and on about December 1 coerced or induced her to run away with him and they went first to Charlotte, later going to Rock Hill and Columbia, and other places in South Carolina, although Mr. Pitman alleges that White did not marry the girl as he had promised he would. Mr. Pittman also alleges that White has a wife and family living in Charlotte.

PLEASED WITH ENCAMPMENT

Charlotte Company Made Fine Record at Fort Caswell the Past Week.

All of the military companies participating in the encampment of the Coast Artillery Carps at Fort Caswell the past week, have carried back to their homes most gratifying reports of the results of the drills and target practice. Monday's Charlotte Observer has the following:

"That the Fifth Company, Coast Artillery Corps, made the gratifying record of 20 parts in 62, or approximately 25 percentage of efficiency, with 8-inch guns at a distance of 8,000 yards and upwards, thus winning first place at camp by a wide margin, is the statement of Capt. W. R. Cox, commanding officer, who returned with his command, arriving in Charlotte early Sunday morning from Wilmington and Fort Caswell. This record is regarded by officers as a very creditable one when it is taken into consideration that the men had to work out all the calculations in the determination of the angle of elevation of the guns, allowance for aid pressure, etc. The distance was also greater than heretofore employed, which was 6,000 yards. The aim of the officers in charge is to increase the efficiency of the various commands. There were six companies in camp, one using the 6-inch guns, three the 8-inch guns and two the 12-inch mortars. The Hendersonville company used the 6-inch while the Wilmington, Raleigh and Charlotte used the 8-inch guns. The Charlotte company with its record of 20 parts in 62 was nine parts higher than the next nearest. Captain Cox was deeply sorrowful by reason of the loss of two of his men, Sergeant Ardrey and Private Swaim, who were drowned while in surf bathing near Southport Sunday a week ago."

CUTTING AFFRAY AT BEACH.

Mary Loftin Carves Up Dave Teachey, During an Altercation.

Dave Teachey, a colored employe of the Seashore hotel, sustained serious knife wounds in the arms, chest and abdomen, during an altercation with Mary Loftin, another colored employe of the hotel, shortly after 9 o'clock last night. The trouble occurred on the board walk between the hotel and the servants' quarters. Teachey was removed to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, and his assailant lodged in the county jail.

Little could be learned as to the cause of the trouble, as the two were alone together when the difficulty occurred. Teachey claims that the woman cursed him, while she ,on the other hand states that Teachey repeatedly addressed insulting remarks to her, and that she warned him to desist or she would cut him. She alleges that the man continued his abuse, and she then carried her threat into execution.

The woman was held at Lumina, immediately following the trouble and Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly notified. He went to the beach at once, and brought her to jail. She was held without bond, pending Teachey's recovery. Teachey lives at Eighth and Red Cross streets.

MAJ. WALDRON ORDERED HERE

Succeeds Capt. Ridley in Charge of Wilmington Engineering District. Latter to Ft. Leavenworth.

Maj. Albert E. Waldron, corps of engineers ,of the United States Army, now stationed at the engineer depot, Washington barracks, Washington, D. C., has been ordered to Wilmington to relieve Capt. Clarence S. Ridley, in charge of the Wilmington engineering district, who has been relieved of his duties here and detailed to enter the next class at the Army Field Engineer school, Fort Leavenworth, Kas.

Captain Ridley received his orders yesterday from the War Department and will leave Wilmington about September 10, or as soon as the government property in this district can be turned over to his successor. Several weeks ago Maj. W. A. Mitchell, of Fort Leavenworth, was ordered here to relieve Captain Ridley, but this order was later revoked and the matter held in abeyance on account of the crisis in Mexico. A few days later Major Mitchell was ordered to the border for duty with the troops there.

Major Waldron is a graduate of West Point, and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the First Artillery in February, 1899. He was promoted to first lieutenant on May 8, 1901, and on June 18, 1902, was transferred to the corps of engineers, being promoted to a captaincy in this corps in 1907 and a major February 27, 1913. This is the first time in a number of years that so high ranking an officer has been named to take charge of the local district, and it is believed to be a recognition of the growing importance of the government harbor and river improvements being carried on in the Wilmington district, which is one of the largest in the country. Last year nearly a million dollars was spent on government improvements in the Wilmington district.

TICKETS FOR THE RECITAL AT BEACH NOW ON SALE.

Wide Publicity Being Given to Musical Concert for Next Tuesday Night.

Tickets for the DeSayn-Eversman-Richardson-Bertine Concert Recital, which will be the opening event at the handsome new Harbor Island auditorium next Tuesday evening, have been placed on sale at the hotels in the city, at Munson's, at the Oceanic and Seashore hotels, all beach boarding houses, and will be on sale at several other convenient locations in the city today, including Northam's and Yates' book stores, Woodall & Sheppard's, Mission Pharmacy and Bellamy's drug store.

Arrangements of a very satisfactory nature have been made with North Carolina Sorosis, the Catherine Kennedy Home, the Red Cross and other civic organizations of Wilmington, whereby they will share pro rata in the receipts from the sale of every ticket sold at the various places and these organizations, therefore, will share materially in every cent paid for tickets to the opening concert, a liberal percentage going to these causes. The Y. M. C. A. is also actively encouraging the event in every way possible.

Arrangements have been made for giving wide publicity to the concert as well as in the city. Pictures of the stars including Don Richardson's orchestra are being exhibited at the places where tickets are being sold and also in the moving pictures in Wilmington.

Large forces of workmen are busy putting the finishing touches both to the interior and exterior of the Auditorium and residents of Wilmington will be surprised at the elaborateness of this latest addition to Wrightsville Beach. Its large seating capacity with the complete equipment in the way of acoustics, ventilation and lighting will no doubt be a surprise to many.

The programme for the concert-recital by Elena deSayn, the famous Russian violin virtuoso, who is the greatest attraction, and Alice Eversman, the well known prima donna-soprano, latest acquisition to the Metropolitan Opera Company, have been received, but before publication are in the hands of Mr. Don Richardson, who, with his Lumina orchestra will direct the concert. Mr. Richardson will complete the programme by inserting the orchestra overtures and interpretations which should prove another enjoyable feature of the occasion. Mr. Richardson's famous orchestra is to go on a circuit of the Carolinas immediately after the close of the Lumina season.

Perhaps one of the most enjoyable features of the concert will be the interpretation by Elena de Sayn of the modern and standard music of different lands, specializing in the compositions the new Russian school, this being one of the first artists to introduce this class of music to American audiences.

General admission has been placed at the low figure of 50 cents, in order that the opening event at the auditorium may be the greatest success possible. Twenty-five cents additional will entitle one to a section reserved, consisting of the very most advantageous positions in the auditrouim. The seats in reserved section will not be numbered ,but all seats will be equally desirable, and only the number of reserved seats in this section will be sold.

COUNTY OFFICIALS GETTING UP COLLECTION OF RATTLERS.

Deputy Sheriff Kelly and Road Superintendent Burnett Got Two Yesterday

The collection of rattlesnake skins now being gotten up by officers of New Hanover seems likely to become one of the most complete and varied in the State, if the minions of the law continue their aggressive efforts. There were two large ones added to the collection yesterday, both of these being placed on exhibition on the side porch of the court house, where they attracted much attention.

Road Superintendent R. A. Burnett, in company with Deputy Sheriff E. C. Reynolds, killed a large male rattler on the Carolina Beach road yesterday morning, which was five feet and three inches in length, having nine rattles and a button. Deputy Sheriff Kelly exercised his marksmanship to splendid advantage yesterday afternoon while making a trip out the Castle Haynes road, killing a large female member of the species which measured more than three feet in length and had ten rattles and a button.

According to those versed in rattle snake lore, a rattle is grown every year while there are some who claim that no rattlers are grown until the reptile reaches the age of three years. According to all standards, however, the snakes killed yesterday had been living for more than ten years and were considered by Mr. W. A. Williams, clerk of the Board of Commissioners who has had many years of experience in observing these species of reptiles, to be very fine specimens.

Road Superintendent Burnett has killed a half dozen or more of these rattlers this year and expects to continue his campaign until he has ridded the county of snakes, believing like St. Patrick of old that a snake is an exceedingly bad sort of creature to be roaming at large.

ENJOYABLE MEETING OF THE HELEN ALEXANDER LEAGUE.

A very helpful and inspiring meeting of the Helen Alexander League of Business Women was held last evening on the lawn of the Young Women's Christian Association, which was featured by an address by Miss Anna Troutt, retiring secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Troutt had for her subject "Keeping Tryst." There was a large attendance.

After the supper was served by a committee of young women, Miss Nancy Anderson, the new secretary of the Y. W. C. A., led in the singing of a number of Alexander hymns and also sang a solo, which was very much enjoyed. Miss Anderson was introduced to the league by Miss Troutt and was given a most cordial welcome, this being the first time that the new secretary had had the opportunity to meet with the League.

At the conclusion of the meeting the members of the League extended greetings to Miss Troutt, who will leave this week for her home at Jackson, Tenn. One and all extended to her their very best wishes and she was the recipient of many expressions of gratitude for her untiring efforts in promoting the interests not only of this organization but of every phase of work for the betterment and uplift of the young women of the city.

MISS JANIE JONES BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. JOHN L. HENRY

The marriage of Miss Janie Jones, daughter of Mr. Gaston A. Jones, and Mr. John Lawrence Henry, of Brunswick county, was celebrated at the home of the bride's father, No. 107 South Eighth street, at 12 o'clock noon yesterday, Rev. Andrew J. Howell officiating.

The parlor was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and cut flowers. Mrs. G. T. Keene presided at the piano. The bride entered from the rear of the hall on the arm of her father, and was met at the improvised altar by the groom who was attended by his brother, Mr. Preston Henry, as best man. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Irene Jones, as maid of honor.

The bride was dressed in a becoming traveling suit of mauve, with hat, gloves and shoes to match. The maid of honor wore white voile with pink trimmings.

The bride is an accomplished young lady, being a graduate of the Wilmington High School. The groom is a successful merchant and farmer of Winnabow. Immediately after the ceremony, the couple motored to the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. J. S. Henry, where a reception was given last night in their honor from 8 to 10 o'clock. Later they will be guests at a house party at Long Beach, which will be held in their honor.

——Mr. Hardy Jacobs, who has been spending some time at Mt. Vernon Springs for the benefit of his health, has returned home, much improved in health, his many friends will be glad to learn.

NEW GYMNASIUM DIRECTOR

Miss Evelyn Kendrick Will Have Charge of the Physical Department of Y. W. C. A. Next Year.

The board of directors of the Wilmington Young Women's Christian Association feel particularly fortunate in being able to secure for physical director for the ensuing year, Miss Evelyn Kendrick, of Charleston, Miss., who will assume charge of the gymnasium on October 1st, preparatory to the opening of classes on October 15th. She comes with the highest recommendations and under her direction, it is believed that the gymnasium will prove of great value to the young women of the city.

Miss Kendrick is a graduate of both the academic and physical departments of the Mississippi Institute and College at Columbus, Miss., and has had considerable experience including extension work in which she has been highly successful.

She has had training in both the theory and practice of gymnasium work, the courses completed by her including Swedish gymnastics, track athletics, gymnastic games, folk dancing, military tactics, aesthetic and classic dancing, swimming physiology, hygiene, anatomy, psychology, child study and other allied subjects.

Her instructor in physical work in recommending her states that "she has unbounded enthusiasm, profound interest, marked individuality, splendid leadership, is a tireless worker, a thoroughly equipped teacher.

"We have never graduated a student to take up the duties of physical education whom I consider better fitted for a physical director," he instructor stated, "and I consider her second to none. The president of her alma mater says: "I feel that you cannot get a physical director who will do more splendid work or who will place it more creditably before the public than Miss Kendrick." She is also highly recommended by the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. and many others.

The activities of the physical department of the Y. W. C. A. will be greatly extended this year and it is expected that it will prove of invaluable service to the young women of the city.

FREIGHT WRECK ON W., C. & A.

Fourteen Box Cars Piled Up Along Track Near Malmo, N. C.

Passenger trains to and from Florence, on the W., C. & A. division of the Atlantic Coast Line, had to be detoured yesterday and last night via New Berlin and Acme, N. C., over the Seaboard Air Line and on into Navassa, on account of a rather nasty wreck of 14 freight cars of a Wilmington freight, near Malmo, about ten miles out from the city. As the link via New Berlin and Acme is very short the detour of trains was with little, if any delay.

Several cars of the derailed train were loaded with cypress logs, and after the accident occurred they were piled in fantastic heaps across the track, tearing it up for a considerable distance. Wrecking crews from both Wilmington and Florence were dispatched to the scene, but the mass of jammed timbers and splintered wood presented a jetsam, the removal of which was by no means easy. However, the tracks were cleared with unusual dispatch, considering the seriousness of the wreck. Passenger train No. 52 from Columbia was able to pass over the tracks early this morning.

The train was in charge of Conductor Hatch and Engineer Capel, and was proceeding at a moderate rate of speed when the accident occurred.

No one was hurt in the wreck, it is understood, but the damage to rolling stock is said to be quite heavy as some 14 of the freight cars of the train were scattered along the right-of-way for some distance and the track torn up to some extent. A journal of one of the cars went wrong in some way, causing the wreck, it is said.

MRS. MARY A CLARKE DEAD

Mother of Mr. E. R. Clarke Passed Away at His Home Late Last Night

Mrs. Mary A. Clarke, of Louisville, Ky., passed away this morning at 12:30 o'clock at the home of her son, Mr. E. R. Clarke, No. 15 North Fifteenth street, whom she had been visiting for some time. She was 79 years old on August 1st. She had visited her son frequently in Wilmington and had a host of friends here who sympathize tenderly with the bereaved family. She is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. McPherson, of Louisville, Ky., who is also here on a visit, and Mr. Chas. B. Clarke, also of Louisville.

There will be a short funeral service held at the residence this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock following which the remains will be taken on the 3:45 A. C. L. train to Louisville for interment.

Mr. J. B. Beall, of Gastonia, is spending a few days at the beach, a guest at the Paris cottage.

Dr. George H. West, of Newton, is visiting Postmaster and Mrs. H. McL. Green at their cottage on the beach. Dr. West is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Green.

Among the arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel yesterday were: Mrs. H. W. T. Eglin, Fort Caswell; Misses Lucy W. Patton and Agnes Lee Patton, Lexington, Va.; J. R. Vann, Raleigh; Harrison D. Panton, Raleigh.

Among the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were: T. L. Eberhardt, Charlotte; W. V. Eichenstein, Charlotte; Douglas McKay, Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. Jones, Washington, N. C.; and C. K. Gillespie, Columbia, S. .

Moonlight sailing at Wrightsville Beach is becoming very popular, especially with the members of the younger set. Last night a party of about 30, including both ladies and gentlemen, guests of the Seashore Hotel and the Hanover Inn, went out for a cruise of several hours in Capt. W. M. Well's sharpie, "Virgie May."

Mr. A. B. Saunders and family, of Charlotte, and several other ladies and gentlemen made up the members of a very successful fishing party yesterday morning, which went over to Shell Island in Capt. W. M. Well's launch "Susanna." About 200 fish of different species were caught. Also a number of clams, and a fish fry and clam stew was held on board the boat.

Mr. Tom Strange, of the Oceanic Hotel steff, gave a moonlight sailing party Monday evening on the "Virgie May" in honor of Miss Sue Northrop, "Queen of Love and Beauty" at the Feast or Lanterns, which included some 75 members of the younger set at the Beach. The party cruised through the Sound to Shell Island. Music and singing added much to the enjoyment of the sail.

Harry Mestayer, Sidney Smith and Edith Johnson interpret the leading roles in "The Gold Ship", a stirring two reel Selig drama which heads the bill of motion pictures on the Lumina screen tonight. "The Gold Ship" is one of those delightful tales with a sea flavor. It has the smack of a treasure island with mutiny and desperate deeds for a fondant. It is thrilling all the way through. Harry Myers and Rosemary Theby present their second great Vim comedy feature, "Rushing Business," with many laughs, and Essanay presents another one of those inimitable George Ade comedy features, "The Fable of the Books Made to Balance." You can enjoy an hour with the breeze from the waves in your face as you watch the Lumina picture show.

FUNERAL OF CAPTAIN WOODRUFF

Services Will be Conducted This Morning at Oakdale Cemetery.

Funeral services for Capt. H. Woodruff, whose death occurred early Monday morning at his home at Summerville, S. C., will be conducted at the grave in Oakdale cemetery this morning at 10 o'clock. The remains arrived in the city last night, being accompanied by Mrs. Woodruff and daughter, Miss Jennie Woodruff. The following is from yesterday's Charleston News and Courier:

"Capt. Harry Woodruff, for nine years master of the Union Station here, died at his home in Summerville yesterday morning about 4:30 o'clock. While Capt. Woodruff had been ill from heart trouble for several months it was not until Friday of last week did he go to bed. He was in the 60th year of his age.

"Capt. Woodruff was born at Houston, Texas, and for almost his entire life has been engaged in railroad service. He was also active in military affairs for a number of years.

"Funeral services will be held at his late residence this morning, conducted by the Rev. A. E. Cornish, of Charleston, at 9:30 o'clock. The body will be brought to Charleston by the Southern Railway, arriving here at 11:30 o'clock this morning. It will be carried to Wilmington, N. C., on board the Atlantic Coast Line train leaving here at 4 o'clock this afternoon, where the interment will take place tomorrow morning.

"During his life Capt. Woodruff was connected with the following railroads: Southern Pacific, Texas and Pacific, Central of Georgia and Atlantic Coast Line. He served in the office of freight agents, as a freight conductor and as station master at Wilmington, N. C. Mr. Woodruff came from Wilmington to take charge of the Union Station here on its completion about nine years ago.

"For quite a while Mr. Woodruff served as a Texas Ranger before taking up railroad work. He was a member of one of the oldest and most famous military organizations in Texas. He was commissary general of the State troops of Florida from 1886 to 1890.

"Capt. Woodruff is survived by a widow and two daughters, Miss Jennie Woodruff, of Summerville, and Mrs. Walters, of Wilmington.

"The Union Station was draped yesterday and will remain draped today."

CRAVEN CORN AND PIG CLUB BOYS AT RALEIGH

Full Quota Attending Meeting at Capital This Week.

"Bob" Hopewell to be Tried on Charge of Poisoning His Wife—George Jones to be Tried for Murdering His Uncle.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New Bern, N. C., Aug. 22.—Craven county sent its full quota of corn and pig club boys to Raleigh today to attend the meeting of the corn, pig and poultry clubs which is to be held in the Capital City this week and the happy crowd of youngsters from Craven are expecting this meeting to prove of real interest and benefit to them.

During the past two years the corn and pig club movement in Craven county has been given a big impetus by the efforts of Prof. J. W. Sears, county farm demonstrator, who has set out to make this county one of the State's leaders in this work.

Last year the Craven pig and corn club boys made some excellent records. They expect that the meeting at Raleigh is going to give them some fine ideas for the promulgation of their work and next season they intend breaking all previous records.

To Try "Bob" Hopewell.

One of the most interesting cases at the next term of Craven county superior court, which convenes here on September 4th, will be that of the State vs. W. R. Hopewell, in which the defendant is charged with having caused the death of his wife, Rachel, by giving her poison. Interest in the outcome of this case is at fever heat and it is being awaited with marked anticipation.

At the time of the death of Mrs. Hopewell, she and her husband were living at Bridgeton, just across Neuse river from New Bern. There was nothing thought about the matter at that time but, later on, rumors began to go the rounds and these resulted in the case being brought before the grand jury several months after the death of the deceased. A true bill was found and Hopewell was taken into custody and placed in jail.

Within a short time the body of the deceased was taken up, the viscera removed and dispatched to the State chemist with a request that he make an examination to discover, if possible, whether there was any trace of poison in the woman's body at that time. The State chemist took his time about the matter, made a thorough examination, failed to find the slightest trace of poison and so reported to the authorities here.

Following the report of the State chemist, Hopewell was released from jail under a comparatively small bond and a short time later he removed his family to Richmond, Va., where he is now located.

Hopewell was known as a hard-working man and when his arrest came it caused a distinct shock among his friends.

Killed His Uncle.

Another case of particular interest which will be tried at the next term of Superior court, is that in which George Jones, of the Maple Cypress section of the county, is charged with having killed George Pate, his uncle.

This killing took place several months ago. Jones claims that the older man was, he believed, about to make an attack on him and that he shot to save his own life. The victim did not die at that time but lingered for several days. Jones was allowed to give bond for his appearance at court and is now at liberty.

Won't Leave Beaufort.

Rev. W. R. Woodell, who has for several days been conducting religious services under a tent at Beaufort, declares that he will not make his departure from that town until he has concluded his meeting and is ready to go.

This assertion on his part was made after some of the town officials suggested that, in order to avoid any trouble, he make his get-away. However, the spunky little preacher has decided to hold his ground.

The trouble began when the Rev. Mr. Woodell is said to have made some remarks detrimental to the characters of the soldiers who are now encamped at Camp Glenn. The soldier boys heard of this and, but for the fact that there were a number of special policemen at Beaufort, they would probably have made it hot for the preacher. However, cooler heads prevailed upon them to leave well enough alone and they kept hands off the preacher.

"PETE" DRANEY HURT

(Special Star Correspondence).

New Bern, N. C., Aug. 22.—According to a report reaching New Bern, Peter Draney, of this city, who was injured during a horse race at Ayden last Friday, is improving and will soon be, it is believed, completely recovered with the exception of the probable loss of one eye.

Accounts of the accident brought here state that the sulky in which Mr. Draney was driving, became locked with another and he was thrown out. He landed on one side of his face and in addition to having his face badly cut up, one eye was injured.

AEROPLANE TESTS DELAYED

New Combination Machine Develops Engine Trouble—To be Held Today

Newport News, Va., Aug. 22.—Endurance tests of the combination land and water aeroplane being tested here in the presence of members of the government naval aero board, were not held this afternoon. The machine developed slight engine trouble about noon and it was too late to make the four hours' test, after the trouble had been repaired.

The test will be held tomorrow morning. Officials of the Atlantic Coast Areonautical station say that the machine has meet every requirement and is the best all round craft in the world.

EDITOR SHARPE APPROVES

Editor J. A. Sharpe, of the Lumberton Robesonian, was unable to accept the invitation to attend the Feast of Lanterns at Wrightsville Beach last week, because of having already arranged for an extended automobile trip through Virginia and Maryland but he was immensely pleased with the idea of having annually a big fete at the summer resort for the entire State of North Carolina. His views expressed in an editorial in his paper this week are very much to the point and will be of interest locally. The editorial follows:

"The editor of The Robesonian makes his best manners to Mayor Wright and other officials of the town of Wrightsville Beach, also to the executive committee of the Feast of Lanterns, and desires to express to them, each and several, his appreciation of the invitation extended him to be the guest of the town of Wrightsville Beach on the 17th and 18th, inst., during the Feast of Lanterns. So great was his desire to give himself the pleasure of accepting this invitation would have afforded that he would have rearranged an entire vacation trip that was planned some weeks ago to begin on the 18th, or would have been willing to abandon the trip altogether, but for the fact that either course seriously would have inconvenienced others. Which is proof enough, he hopes, of how much he wanted to "take in" these two notable fete days. They will not pull off another great event like that without the editor of The Robesonian being there by a large majority. Deo volenti. (We are writing this for the paper while away from home in order that our expression of appreciation may not be too long deferred).

"Members of the press of the State and mayors of North Carolina towns were invited to be guests of the town of Wrightsville Beach on this occasion and Lumberton's mayor, A. E. White, was there in full force.

"The town of Wrightsville Beach, with the citizens of Wilmington cooperating, purpose to make the Feast of Lanterns an annual State-wide summer event. And what they have purposed in their hearts to do they will do: of that there can be no doubt, for the people who have their local habitation in those towns know how to do charming and delightful things, things to make folks sit up and take notice—things that hit you straight between the eyes and may you gasp with wonder and delight. And even so, we doubt not, was it with this Feast of Lanterns.

"A sort of Mardi Gras they intend to make of this Feast of Lanterns, we understand — fete days that will draw unto Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach folks from All Over, even as the great New Orleans event, especially from the entire South and most especially from all parts of North Carolina. It will be 'a sort of a bloomin' cosmopolons,' in a manner of speaking, and from henceforth nobody in the State will dare to miss it.

"Why not? Why should not North Carolina have a yearly fete for the enjoyment and profit of which thousands would gather from all over the State and from other states? And everybody knows that Wrightsville Beach is the ideal place for such an event.

"It is our own guess that the Feast of Lanterns has arrived and will occupy the center of the stage every August, and that the fiery-eyed dragon shall on these joyous occasions eat up more gloom than all other months of the year can gather. Selah."

QUARANTINE VIRGINIA AGAINST INFANTILE PARALYSIS EPIDEMIC.

Resolution Adopted by Health Officers and Physicians.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 22.—At a meeting of health officers and physicians held here today a resolution was adopted declaring Virginia to be in a state of quarantine against all areas infected with infantile paralysis effective noon, August 25. A committee was appointed to work out details of the quarantine and the whole matter will be passed on formally by the state board of health on Thursday.

Plans outlined today include supervision of all passenger traffic from points outside the state and the exclusion of all persons from infected areas who are not provided with health certificates. It is also proposed to place guards along the state border where automobile roads enter from other states, and to enforce rigidly the quarantine at all Virginia ports.

POSED AS BANK PRESIDENT AND TRIED TO FORGE CHECKS

Man Arrested in Roanoke, Va., Suffers Stroke of Paralysis.

Roanoke, Va., Aug. 22.—Posing as A. A. Hargiss, president of the Hargiss Commercial Bank, of Jackson, Ky., a man who later admitted to the police that his name was L. M. Gardner, was arrested here today after he had presented for deposit what purposted to be cashier's checks on the Hargiss Commercial Bank of Jackson, for $5,000 and $500, respectively, at the American National Bank, in this city. On making inquiries of the Jackson bank, the local bank officials said they learned that the checks were fraudulent.

Shortly after his arrest Gardner suffered a stroke of paralysis. The police claimed they found in his possession checks drawn on banks in Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, West Virginia, Ohio and Virginia.

SLAUGHTER HIRED OUT

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 22.—C. W. Slaughter, ex-chief of police of Draper, N. C., recently convicted of manslaughter on the charge of killing Thomas Weaver while Slaughter was chief, was hired out late yesterday by the commissioners of Rockingham county, in session at Wentworth, to P. L. Flinch, a tobacco planter of Meadows, on the Dan. Slaughter was sentenced to two years imprisonment with authority given to hire him out. He left immediately with his new employer who will pay Rockingham county the sum of $435. Mrs. Slaughter put in a bid for her husband but the commissioners decided to put the man in other hands.

THREE MEN ARE ARRESTED

Charged with reckless driving and serious injury in connection with the running down and seriously injuring Deams Padgett, 16 years old, of No. 814 Dock street, near Fifth and Chestnut streets at about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Messrs. Ross Kennedy, John Redd and W. R. Terry, three white men of this city, were placed under arrest by the police and county officers about three hours after the accident. They were lodged in the county jail, pending the result of the injuries received by the boy, who was reported as suffering from concussion of the brain at the James Walker Hospital to which institution he was removed following the accident. His condition at an early hour this morning was reported as being critical. Both Kennedy and Redd appeared to have been drinking, according to the police, at the time they were arrested.

From the statements made by Redd and Terry to the officers at the time the collision occurred, Kennedy was driving his machine north out Fifth street with Terry on the front seat beside him and John Redd in Terry's lap. Young Padgett was also riding north on a bicycle, when the automobile containing the three men came up behind, struck his wheel and passed over his body. According to the statements of eye-witnesses, the machine, which was a Ford roadster, slowed up for a moment, the men glanced back, and then extra speed was put on.

Ross Kennedy and John Redd were arrested about 5:30 o'clock at a residence on Meadow's alley, between 13th and 14th streets. Terry was also there, but was not placed under arrest as the officers did not know that he had been in the car. Later he was taken into custody by County Officer H. Mack Godwin and Officer D. W. Coleman. At the police station Kennedy denied that he was in the car which ran over the boy. A car answering the description, however, was found by the police where it had been driven under Kennedy's house, the back of the house being high off the ground.

At the hospital last night it was stated that Padgett's injuries included concussion of the brain, a dislocated collar bone, and numerous contusions about the body. There was no evidence of a fractured skull, so far as could be determined.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 22.—Governor Rye, of Tennessee, and Governor-Elect Brough, of Arkansas, were the principal speakers here today at the annual convention of the Cotton States Merchants' Association. More than a thousand business men from seven states are attending the meeting.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—Manager Moran, of the Philadelphia National League club, announced today that he had signed Outfielder Gandy, of the Portsmouth, Va., club. Gandy will report next spring.

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 200% in Ten Days

In many instances—Persons have suffered untold agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood—How to tell.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discourse Dr. E. Sauer, a well known Specialist who has studied widely both in this country and Europe said: If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skinny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases, it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your fagging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what any one tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good, sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated, and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron, for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth, and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any Charitable Institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by all druggists.

FILL INSURANCE CONTRACTS WITH THE BLACK-LISTED FIRMS

Ruling is Handed Down by the English Foreign Trade Department

Washington, Aug. 22.—British underwriters and insurance companies, will be allowed to carry into effect marine, fire and other insurance contracts made with firms in the United States on the British trade black list, prior to the publication of the list, according to a ruling of the English foreign trade department reported today to Consul General Skinner, at London.

No official report has reached Washington of the action of the Chilean government announced at Santiago yesterday of joint action against the British black list. The State Department was without any word on the subject today and 'Charge Munizaga-Varela, of the Chilean legation, said no instructions had been received by him.

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 22.—Dr. A. DeK. Parrott, Lenoir county's health officer, has located three flies in Rochester, Minn., seat of the Mayo brothers' famous hospital, and written a letter back home about them. They were sadly out of place he intimated. Dr. Parrott, stating that "Kinston is about the cleanest place in North Carolina," advocates that this city take Rochester for an example and eradicate flies entirely.

How for More Than a Century Ireland Has Fought for Her Freedom As a Nation.

Copyright, 1916, by The International Syndicate.

IRELAND has suffered much in her fight for her place in the sun, and the recent rebellion against England is but a repetition of what has been going on for more than a century, always with the same end—the killing of a lot of innocent people and the execution of the leaders of the revolt.

For several months before the outbreak rioting had been going on in different parts of Ireland, and a few months ago three policemen were shot, presumably by Sinn Feiners. This occurred at Tullamore, fifty miles west of Dublin; in fact, Ireland has been in a more or less riotous condition ever since the failure of Home Rule, and those who knew Irish conditions were not surprised at the seemingly sudden outbreak. Now that its leaders have gone—some to their death as traitors and others to imprisonment, the country will probably remain outwardly quiet at least for a time, but the spirit of rebellion against England still lives and like a smouldering fire will flare up again.

The history of Ireland is one long series of fights to become an independent nation. The most startling period in European history will be found to embrace that stormy interval occurring between the outbreak of the French Revolution and the legislative act which abolishing a faulty home government made Ireland an integral portion of the British Empire. From political evil political good will frequently arise, and after a painful probation that consolidation of British influence and power was accomplished which enabled England in fifteen brief years afterward to restore the tranquility of Europe, while her own national dignity was amply vindicated and lasting advantages secured.

United Irishmen

In 1779 Great Britain was sorely pressed and the Irish Volunteers were organized to assist her in fighting her enemies. This body of men became aware of their strength and after a time formed a party known as the Society of United Irishmen, and by 1797 they had developed into a formidable association. The American revolution awakened much sympathy in Ulster, and in 1778 the English Parliament passed an act cutting out some of the most oppressive laws for Ireland, but this did not satisfy the United Irishmen, and in 1798 the peasantry in Wexford started a rebellion which led them to the very gates of Dublin. They made a brave fight at Vinegar Hill, but were defeated. In the meantime a French force had landed in Ireland, but too late to be of any help to the insurgents.

It finally developed into a religious war, and there were numerous atrocious murders of the poorer class of Protestants who returned to their dwellings not thinking that the rebels would disturb them. The murders became so frequent that the yeomanry sent out the proclamation "that for every Protestant that was put to death they would kill a priest and twenty Papists in whatever parish the murder was committed." This had the desired effect, but although the murders ceased the looting of houses continued.

Robert Emmet

Robert Emmet was a product of the aftermath of this uprising. He was a distinguished Irish poet and orator, and in his desire to see the land of his birth free from what he termed English thraldom he sought the aid of Napoleon and Talleyrand during a secret visit to France. The former promised to aid Irish independence and Emmet returned to Ireland and started another uprising, which took place on July 23, 1803, when Emmet and a hundred or more conspirators attempted to seize Dublin Castle. On their way they met and brutally murdered the aged Lord Kilwarden, Chief Justice of the King's Bench. This gentleman was riding in his carriage when attacked. They also assassinated Colonel Brown, who was going to his regimental headquarters. The insurrection, however, was short-lived and its members were executed for high treason.

Emmet escaped and fled to the mountains, hoping to hide until he could escape to America or to the Continent. His desire to have a farewell interview with his sweetheart, however, was his undoing, as he was arrested in her company. He was tried, convicted and condemned to death for treason. His speeches delivered before receiving his sentence and on the scaffold are held as models of patriotic eloquence. He was hanged on September 20, 1803, the day after his conviction. In justice to Emmet, it must be said that he did not approve of the murders his associates committed, but even his eloquence was powerless against the blood-thirstiness of a wild Irish mob. Emmet was an infidel of the most pronounced type.

The legislative union of Great Britain and Ireland which followed immediately on the insurrection of 1798 has ever been considered as a pendant on that unfortunate era in Irish history. Like the union of the Scottish and Irish crowns, that enactment which incorporated the countries met with a violent opposition which has never been dissipated.

After Emmet's death there was no further revolt for some time, Ireland's fight for freedom being carried on along Parliamentary lines and under the leadership of Daniel O'Connell. In 1823 the struggle was a fight between the Catholic and Protestant churches, and was known as a "tithe war"—all Catholics being compelled to pay for the maintenance of the Anglican Church in Ireland. Great brutality was practiced on both sides and riots were frequent. Various societies were formed at the instigation of O'Connell to carry out the agitation for a repeal of the act of the Union and there was no little rioting led by what was known as the Ribbon Society. While O'Connell did not succeed in having the act repealed he did secure the privilege of selecting what religion one pleases and yet stand equal before the law and no citizen denied the right to hold office.

Rebellion of '47

The next move on the part of Ireland was the formation of the Young Ireland party, and from 1845 to 1847 Peel, the English Prime Minister, tried to quiet the country by promising concessions to Ireland, but high rents and famine caused by the failure of the potato crop made matters worse.

Hatred for England grew and vast numbers emigrated to America. Many died before they could make arrangements to leave the country. According to a noted statistician, at least a million and a half persons disappeared from the Emerald Isle in 1848. Then came a revolt by the Young Ireland party with more bloodshed. This was quickly put down by the English, but not before valuable property had been destroyed. The leaders of this outbreak were transported. The result of this was an unexpected success in one line; namely, the disestablishment of the Protestant Church in Ireland. The work of the Young Ireland party was afterward taken up by the Fenian Society, who seem to have accomplished very little except to arouse a bitter feeling in England against Ireland.

Gladstone and Home Rule

However, in 1869, through the efforts of Gladstone, there were many reforms in land laws and Home Rule became the all absorbing question. Ireland is an agricultural country and always will be. Every attempt to raise up its manufacturing capacity has since the days of William III failed, even with English legislation. At the end of every war with England a fresh crop of English, Scotch or Welsh planters were imposed upon Ireland by confiscating the land of the Irish tribes or Irish lords. With these estates went military support to the newcomers in whatever barbarous fashion they treated the actual tillers of the soil. They were the permanent English garrison to Ireland. Eviction at the whim of the landlord was always a cloud over the hardest worker. Here was a great field for reform, and the Irish Land League was soon formed and Charles Stewart Parnell became the Home Rule leader.

The agrarian movement at once developed into a system of organized terrorism, and as a result a bill known as the Coercion Act was passed. This gave the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland power to arrest a person on mere suspicion of treason. Parnell was arrested, and the Irish retaliated with outrages and finally the murder of the Chief Secretary of Ireland, Lord Frederick Cavendish, and the Permanent Undersecretary, Thomas H. Burke. These murders were committed at Phoenix Park, Dublin, on May 6, 1882, not far from the home of the Lord Lieutenant. It was discovered that the crime was committed under the auspices of a society known as the Invincibles. Parnell was released from prison and for a time was a national hero. Later a scandal in a divorce suit threw him from his pedestal and Mr. Justin McCarthy became the Chairman of the Home Rule party.

Mr. Gladstone was dependent on the Irish Nationalists for support, and he brought in a Home Rule Bill which died in the House of Commons after an exciting debate. After Mr. Gladstone's retirement John Redmond became the leader of the Parnellites and the Home Rule fight went on in Parliament supplemented by riots in Ireland from time to time. Lord Rosebery in a speech made at Liverpool in 1902 supposed he had forever silenced the Home Rule question, but a few days later it bobbed up as the pet scheme of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, who placed it under the wing of the Liberal Party. Next came the Wyndham Land Act, which set apart a large amount of money for buying out large estates in Ireland—in fact, doing away with the hated landlord altogether. This act was declared to be a sop to the Home Rule party and as usual Ireland had a number of riots over the affair.

Sinn Fein Organized

In 1905 the Sinn Fein was organized by the Radicals of Ireland. This society stands for "Gaelic for Ourselves Alone," and its members are supposed to work for the regeneration of Ireland not only from a political standpoint, but from an industrial, social and educational point as well. They even expected to restore the old Gaelic language. Mr. Birrell in 1907 submitted a bill which was strongly opposed by this society and there was much discussion, only cool heads preventing riots, for it is the fashion in Ireland to riot over everything done by England which does not meet their approval.

In 1911 Home Rule agitation was renewed. This time Ulster rebelled, and Sir Edward Carson's great fight against Home Rule is still fresh in the minds of the readers.

Early in 1914 Sir Edward Carson threatened Ireland with civil war if an attempt was made to foist the Home Rule law upon Ulster. No decision had been reached when the war came on and a truce was declared by both sides.

Today we have Sir Roger Casement as the leader of the latest revolt—a man of Ulster birth and a Protestant in religion, a man who for twenty-five years has acted as Consul for England in foreign lands. He is a representative of the most advanced revolutionary type and full of designs for Ireland as a nation. By the aid of the Sinn Feiners he has caused hundreds of his fellow countrymen to lose their lives and property without materially aiding the cause of Ireland. The mob spirit gains little for any country.

THEATRICAL

The true beauty of the pure Georgian period decorations is excellently displayed in the interior views of "Davy Crockett" the Pallas-Paramount screen drama starring Dustin Farnum.

The Pallas emblem that marks this colonial romance assures the authenticity and correctness of the costumes and furniture with the times in which Crockett actually lived.

An interesting history is attached to the harpsichord that Eleanor Vaughn plays upon in this screen story. Made in England 15 years before the time of the story, that is, 130 years ago by an Astor of the English branch of the great American family and brought to this country and sold by one of the New York Astors, who were not above dealing in pianos in those days, it has been in the possession of one family for over a hundred years.

The doe-skin suit worn by Dustin Farnum was specially made for him. The skins were the pick of a large supply and are of the softness and texture of chamois. Following the design taken from an old wood cut of "Davy Crockett" a band of Indians at one of the studio camps cut and made the suit after the genuine Indian fashion. Even on the coldest days during the severe snow storm encountered by Dustin Farnum's party while on mountain locations. Dustin while he was wearing his wind-proof costume, did not suffer any of the distress that the others had to endure.

Dramatic Feature at Grand.

L. C. Shumway, that startlingly virile dramatic star of the Selig Company, appears to the greatest advantage of his whole career in a great three reel Selig dramatic feature heading today's bill at the Grand, entitled, "The War O' Dreams," a startling drama in three reels, telling one of the most unique and thrilling stories that has ever been transferred onto the screen.

"The War O' Dreams" tells a story of man's fickleness and woman's steadfastness in times of dire distress, of a treacherous husband and a God-fearing wife, a story that must needs find a warm reception in the heart of every woman and man who sees it. In three stirring reels, it is packed with action from beginning to end, and is a superb feature with which to head today's bill at the Grand.

Jack Nelson, the strong universal dramatic star, appears in a virile role in "A Man's Hardest Fight," a stirring heart interest drama that also appears on today's big bill at the Grand.

Remember, Saturday "Tillie's Punctured Romance," a whole hour and a half of Charlie Chaplin and Mabel Norman—six reels.

King Baggott at Bijou Today.

King Baggott in "The Captain of the Typhoon," a stirring two-reel Universal drama, on today's bill at the Bijou shows to good advantage in a strong man part. There is always something stirring and noble about a personality that dominates everything around it. There is real tragedy in seeing a strong man disappointed in everything that is worth while in life and still go on in the same steadfast manner. Angus does this in this stirring film drama and lives a lonely life because he gave up the girl he loved when he saw that his brother loved her. But when he finds that his brother has deserted the girl and wronged another his patience gives out and he becomes guilty of the crime of fratricide.

Starring with King Baggott in this film masterpiece is Edna Hunter, Howard Crampton and Beatrice Allen.

A single reel Imp drama is "A Daughter of the Knight,", another stirring short length drama, while "The Youngest of the Family" is a roaring single reel L-Ko comedy with Gene Rogers and Agnes Vernon.

THREE ADDITIONS TO THE MUSIC FACULTY AT ELON

Announcement Made by the Board of Trustees of the College.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Elon College, N. C., Aug. 22.—The board of trustees of Elon College announces three additions to the music faculty for this year.

Miss Ava L. B. Dodge, of Shingle House, Pa., graduate in piano and voice of the New England Conservatory, Boston, Mass., where for two years she was a member in the normal faculty, becomes director of the music department and teacher of voice and theoretical work.

Mr. Floyd Alexander, graduate in piano and voice of the Southern Conservatory, Durham, where he was a member of the faculty for some time after his graduation and who enjoys a large reputation as a soloist and teacher, becomes assistant in the music department. Mr. Alexander appeared at Elon last year as bass soloist in the Oratorio of Eli and won for himself a host of friends.

Miss Josephine B. Atkins, Concord, N. C., graduate of Elizabeth College, Charlotte, and of Leipsic Conservatory in violin and special student in violin under Edith von Gilliuve and of Alberto Bachmann, becomes teacher of violin. Miss Atkins is a niece of Bishop James Atkins, of Waynesville, and last year taught violin in the Greenwich House Music School, of New York City.

The trustees also announce that Mrs. Thyra Swint, Roanoke, Ala., graduate of the Alabama Normal College in Domestic Science and Household Arts, has been elected head of the domestic science department of Elon College. She is also to have supervision of the Young Men's Co-operative Boarding Department where she will be assisted by Miss Rillie Stephenson and Miss Bessie Elder.

MR. WALTER SAYS SHARKS ARE NUMEROUS IN PAMLICO SOUND

Says He Saw Four Man-Eaters at Once Swimming in the Water.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 22.—G. C. Walter, a traveling man well-known in this part of the State, who recently spent his vacation at Ocracoke, reports that sharks are numerous in Pamlico Sound. Dogfish of large size are frequently captured in the sound, but man-eaters, such as Walter says he saw, are very rare. He glimpsed four at one time swimming around a fish house at one point, he declares. The sharks were near the surface, their dorsal fins showing, waiting to seize offal from the fish house. One of the creatures was judged to be about eight feet long. They were quite fearless. Walter baited a line which was seized by a 5-footer immediately after it was thrown over. The shark darted off and snapped the line, which proved to be rotten. Specimens of other fish not native to the North Carolina waters are being taken in the nets of Pamlico Sound fishermen. Mr. Walter says, and the supply of all kinds seems not to have been decreased by the appearance of West Indian sharks.

TOBACCO BARN ON MR. HENRY BOWDEN'S FARM BURNED DOWN

Summer Vegetables are Now Scarce—Other Warsaw News.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Warsaw, Aug. 22.—A large barn filled with tobacco belonging to Mr. M. F. Calahan, who lives on a farm owned by Mr. Henry Bowden, of Wilmington, was burned Saturday morning. At the present high price of tobacco on the local market this was quite a loss, the value being about $500.

There is a scarcity of fresh summer vegetables in town now, whereas before the heavy rains of July, vegetables of all kinds were a drag in the market. Now it is difficult to obtain enough for home consumption. This condition has been brought about by the gardens being drowned out by the heavy rains of a few weeks ago, in many instances beans, tomatoes, and young corn planted for fall use, are a total loss.

The meeting of the Wilmington-Goldsboro Highway Association to be held here at an early date in September, is being anticipated with much interest. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, of Chapel Hill, will be the chief speaker, but addresses will be made also by other eminent speakers, and the occasion is expected to benefit the project for which it is held—the building of a good road between Wilmington and Goldsboro.

GOLDSBORO NEWS NOTES

Rev. Mr. Barrett Goes to Asheboro—Negro Shoots His Wife.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug. 22.—Rev. A. C. Barrett, the retiring pastor of Friends' church, of this city, which he has served for over three years, and now goes to Asheboro as pastor, left today with his family to take charge of his new field.

W. Ann Mable, a well-known colored damsel of this city, is a patient in a local hospital, the result of a "puncture" she received at the hands of her husband, Joe Mable, late Sunday afternoon, when the latter shot her with a revolver, the bullet lodging in the woman's back. At this writing she is still living but considered to be in a precarious condition. Her husband is in the county jail awaiting developments in his wife's condition.

A revival of the old controversy between the city board of eldmen and the tween the city board of aldermen and Company, it appears, will not down, and the company has again prevailed upon the city to allow them to increase the telephone tolls, in order that they may put underground wires through the greater part of the city. While the board of aldermen have the power to grant the request, they have decided to leave it with the telephone subscribers, and if they are willing to stan dfor the increase, then it will be satisfactory to the city.

NEW CHARTER IS PROPOSED FOR THE CITY OF GOLDSBORO

Plan for the Manager Form of Government Being Discussed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug. 22.—The topic of conversation in this city at present is the proposed establishment of a new charter and manager form of government for Goldsboro.

The charter committee having the new charter and manager form under advisement, met in the city hall last night for the purpose of revising the text which has been completed.

There is considerable division among the voters of the city, some being heartily in favor of the new form of government, while others are bitterly opposed to it, and judging from the general sentiment both pro and con, should the new government be established when the election is held, it will be by a close margin.

Those in favor of making the change contend that it will be to the best interests of the city as a whole to do so, while on the other hand, those opposing the new government claim that it would be nothing less than a farce to give the entire management of the city over to one man, as his responsibilities would not only be too heavy, but at the same time it would give him entirely too much power.

MR. HENDERSON EXPECTS BIG VICTORY FOR THE DEMOCRATS

Democratic Headquarters for Craven County Opened.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New Bern, N. C., Aug. 22.—Democratic headquarters for Craven county were this morning opened in the office of Mr. D. E. Henderson. An invitation has been extended to every Democrat in the county to make that their stopping place between now and election day.

Mr. Henderson is secretary of the Craven county Democratic executive committee and will have charge of conducting the campaign. In order that one who is not acquainted with the location of the headquarters he has had two attractive signs placed on the front of the building and these have attracted much favorable comment during the day.

In an interview given out this morning, Mr. Henderson declared that he was much gratified over the prospects for a great Democratic victory in Craven county and all over this district. He declares that there is every reason to believe that Wilson will get the largest majority ever given a presidential nominee and declares that this will be made possible by the fact that his record appeals to every class.

SAYS EAST CAROLINA BEATS MIDDLE WEST FOR DAIRYING.

Mr. Simms, of Agricultural Department, Gives His Opinion.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 22.—Eastern North Carolina beats the Middle West all hollow for a dairying country, in the opinion of J. A. Simms, a department of agriculture agent here instructing planters in silo construction. The industry hereabouts is in its infancy and has a big future, he declares.

Here are some of the advantages this section has over the Middle states, according to Mr. Simms: A mild winter against a rigorous one, with superior pasturage and shelter facilities on land that sells for one-half as much as in the latter region. A better market; the price here is 40 cents per gallon for milk against 30 cents in the central region. Ability to raise all kinds of feed in greater quantities.

There is a great deal of idle land in this section that could be turned over to pasturage. All the grasses can be procured here, some of them in such profusion as to feed big herds on small acreages. And the market is as good as could be desired by eristing standards, but nothing like as good as it will be. People are not consuming anything like the amount of milk products that they will use, Mr. Simms says. Consumption will increase two or three times, he thinks. The public is just learning the real value of milk, butter, cream and cheese, he says.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Remarks made recently by Representative Callaway, of Texas, questioning the motives of Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts, in advocating army and navy appropriations, were ordered expunged from the record today by the House, which adopted without debate a report from a special committee appointed to investigate the matter.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

COTTON GAINS SLIGHTLY

Early Advance for December Meets Increased Offerings—Spot Middling Quoted at 14.90.

New York, Aug. 22.—An early advance to 14.93 for December cotton met increased offerings today and there were moderate reactions with December selling off to 14.77 and closing at 14.81. The general list closed steady at a net advance of 1 to 7 points.

There was a renewal of the buying movement at the opening and first prices were 6 to 17 points higher. The demand carried October up to 14.90 and January to 14.99 during the first few minutes, or more than half a cent above the closing quotations of last Saturday. Realizing was very heavy at this level.

This rally carried prices back to about the high point of the morning, but offerings again increased above 14.90 for December and prices reached the lowest point of the day in the late trading. October sold at 14.73 and January at 14.81 in the late trading, with the general list working back to or a shade under last night's closing figures.

Closing prices were 3 or 4 points up from the lowest on a final flurry of covering, probably inspired by uncertainty as to the showing of tomorrow's weather map.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Marked Firmness in Early Trading. Close at a Net Gain.

New Orleans, Aug. 22.—Marked firmness was displayed in the early trading in cotton today and prices were sent up 12 to 16 points to new high levels for the present campaign on the long side. Heavy profit-taking soon checked the advance and brought about a re-action. During the greater part of the session prices gradually sagged and late in the day stood 1 to 2 points under yesterday's close on the most active months. At the close the market steadied again on fresh buying for long account, and last prices were at a net gain for the day of 4 to 7 points.

Good cables, continued drought in the western belt, prospects that Rumania would join the Allies and the warning of a tropical storm over Porto Rico, the direction of which was uncertain, stimulated the buying. The May option went across the fifteen cent mark for the first time in several years.

Spots were quoted 12 points higher at 14.50 for middling, a new high figure. Closing bids: October 14.46; December 14.59; January 14.69; March 14.86; May 15.00.

Spot cotton at [illegible] 12 points up; sales on the spot [illegible] evil to arrive 90 bales; middling 14 arise.

STOCKS MAKE BIG GAINS

Overturn on the Exchange Reaches 1,350,000 Shares—Only Motors and Marines Show Losses.

New York, Aug. 22.—The volume of business on the stock exchange today was larger with few exceptions than on any other day this year, the overturn reaching 1,350,000 shares. Trading was on a rising scale of prices and nearly all branches of the lis contributed to the buoyant tone. Motors, which were relatively weak, and shipping issues, which forfeited a small part of their recent gains, were the exceptions.

United States Steel was the commanding feature, making an extreme advance of 2 1-2 points ta 97 1-2, a new record. Transactions in steel which embraced innumerable individual lots of 1,000 to over 4,000 shares, approximated 250,000 shares. Other stocks, including industrials, equipments and war issues, rose 1 to 4 points, with unusual activity in Bethlehem Steel, which gained 12 1-2 points at 480. Coppers and zinc shares, Mexicans, the distilling issues and half a score of unclassified issues were higher by 2 to 4 points with 6 for Sears, Roebuck at p12.

Reading led the railway list on its gross gain of 3 7-8 to 109 7-8, the balance of the list holding back until the final hour when that entire division, particularly the trans-continentals, Westerns, and Northwesterns and coalers registered gains ranging from 1 to 3 points.

The set-back in motors was explained by announcement of the sale of a large block of treasury stock by the Willys-Overland company.

Bonds were strong. Total sales, par value, $4,285,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

"PIN HOOKERS" BARRED

Tobacco Growers Need Not Fear Them On New Bern Market

(Special Star Correspondence).

New Bern, N. C., Aug. 22. — Craven county tobacco growers and others who bring their tobacco to the New Bern market, may rest assured that they will not be bothered by the "pin hookers" who have menaced them for the past two years.

The local Tobacco Board of Trade has put a quietus on these men as far as purchasing the tobacco on the local market is concerned. Of course the "pin hookers" can go out in the country, buy up the tobacco and bring it to the local market and dispose of it and they can also buy tobacco before it has been placed on the floors of the local warehouses but when it comes down to a question of buying it in the warehouses, there is absolutely nothing doing.

For the past two years the "pin hookers" have been getting a good rake off from the tobacco growers of Craven county and their activities have caused a halt to be called on them.

BOTH THE ALLIED WINGS ARE DRIVEN BACK BY THE BULGARS

"North of the Somme the engagements are again of large scope.

"Repeated British attacks against our salient front between Thiepval and Pozieres were repulsed. One advanced salient was lost. The enemy's storming columns northeast of Pozieres and near Four Eaux wood broke down under our fire.

"There has been tenacious fighting in the vicinity of Guillemont which the enemy temporarily penetrated. A Wurttemburg infantry regiment victoriously repulsed all attacks. The village is firmly in our hands.

"Several desperate attacks by the French in the vicinity of Maurepas were without success.

"South of the Somme fresh French forces attacked in the Estrees-Soyecourt sector. Trenches that were lost have been re-captured by a counter attack. One officer and eight men remained in our hands."

FURTHER ADVANCES BY THE BRITISH, IS LONDON CLAIM

London, August 22. — The British have made a further advance between Martinpuich and Bazentin, where they captured 100 yards of German trenches, says a war office statement tonight. The statement follows:

"Between Martinpuich and Bazentin we gained a further hundred yards of enemy trenches. South of Guillemont we carried out a successful enterprise in the enemy's lines, and captured one of his machine guns. Hostile artillery was quieter today along our front.

"As a result of yesterday's operations south of Thiepval and near Mouquet farm we took 164 prisoners. Farther north, on the British front, there is nothing to report except considerable hostile artillery activity opposite Aix-Noulette, and south of the Ypres-Comines canal."

PARIS REPORTS NO CHANGE ON FRONT OF THE FRENCH

Paris, via London, Aug. 22.—The situation on the French front is unchanged, says tonight official statement.

"An artillery duel is in progress on both banks of the Somme and at Fleury in the Verdun sector," it says. "A successful surprise attack by us north of the Maurepas resulted in the capture of some prisoners. We repulsed bombing attacks on one of our works in the Vaux-Chapitre wood."

BRITISH BELIEVE GERMAN BATTLESHIP WAS SENT DOWN

Vessel of the Nassau Class Was Attacked by Submarine.

London, Aug. 22.—A British official announcement says this afternoon it is believed that a German battleship of the Nassau class has been sunk by British submarine E-22. The announcement reads:

"The submarine E-22, Lieutenant-Commander Robert R. Turner, which returned today from the North Sea reports that on the morning of Saturday last she made a successful torpedo attack on a German battleship of the Nassau class. The commanding officer reports that while the battleship was being escorted by five destroyers to the harbor in a damaged condition he attack again and struck her with a second torpedo and believes she was sunk."

PESSIMISM RENEWED AS TO SALE OF THE DANISH ISLES.

Radical Party Makes Demands Not Agreeable to Other Parties.

Copenhagen, Via London, Aug. 22.—Demands of the radical party to which the other parties are not willing to agree, caused renewed pessimism tonight as to the prospect of an early settlement of the Danish West Indies question.

The radicals insist that they shall have four members in the coalition cabinet for three of each of the others. They also insist that the new premier shall be a radical and that the sale of the islands shall be settled immediately by a plebesite. Negotiations will be continued tomorrow in the hope of affecting a compromise.

80,000 RUSSIANS EXPECTED

Allied Offensive Delayed Pending Arrival of the Troops.

Saloniki, Aug. 19.—(Correspondence of Associated Press).—The Allies' offensive in Macedonia is being delayed until Russian forces arrive. Some 80,000 Russians are expected. At least a division will come from France and the remainder probably will come from the Persian gulf. Russians who effected a juncture with the British in Mesopotamia are marching towards the Persian gulf to embark on British and French transports to come to Saloniki by way of the Red Sea and the Suez canal.

AUDIENCE WITH KING.

Ruler of Rumania Receives Teutonic Representatives.

London, Aug. 22.—The king of Roumania received the German and Austrian ministers to Bucharest in private audience Monday, according to a Cologne dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, by way of Amsterdam. The ministers were received separately and afterwards jointly. It was the longest audience ever granted by the Rumanian king to the Teutonic representatives.

FEWER BABIES HAVE DIED

New York, Aug. 22.—The health department announced tonight that despite the epidemic of infantile paralysis fewer babies have died this year than in ordinary years. Flushing of the streets which rids the city of dust is believed to have helped keep the rate down. Health Commissioner Emerson said weather conditions had no effect on the spread of the disease.

OPENS MAINE CAMPAIGN.

Secretary of Labor Wilson Delivers First Speech at Westbrook.

Westbrook, Me., Aug. 22.—William B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor, in his first speech of the Maine Democratic campaign here tonight, discussed legislation in favor of labor, which he said had been enacted under the present administration. In the last year, he said, the increase in wages throughout the country amounted to $727,000,000.

London, Aug. 22.—Munitions factory explosion at Yorkshire yesterday destroyed the plant, but the loss of life was not as great as was at first believed, says an official statement issued tonight. A fire which preceded the explosion warned the workers and most of them escaped.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD IS SOME SMOKER FOR ONE OF HIS AGE

Three of Four Cigars The Limit in Summer But in Winter It's Different.

(Special Star Correspondence).

New Bern, N. C., Aug. 22.—Charlie, aged four, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Edwards, of Greenville, N. C., came to town yesterday to see a physician about being treated for the after effect of an attack of infantile paralysis which he suffered some time ago and which departed leaving him in not near as good as that which he enjoyed before the attack came his way.

Now, ordinarily there is nothing unusual about a four year old youngster coming to New Bern but with Charlie it is different and he is proving to be the talk of the town.

Charlie, despite his tender years, claims the distinction of being the second Walter Raleigh when it comes down to a question of being an expert smoker. He is a past master in the art and what he doesn't know about the different brands of cigars and smoking tobacco isn't worth knowing.

Last night Charlie propped himself up on a prominent corner down in the business section of the city, located a Havana in one of his pockets, asked a neighboring lounger for a match and proceeded to fire up. Pedestrians passing that way saw a little tot with smoke belching from his mouth like one of the old "mullet" road wood burners, they started to yell "fire" and call the police, but Charlie put a stop to this by calmly observing that it was a fairly good weed that he was smoking and proceeded to inhale it to the end.

According to Charlie's parents, who came over from Greenville with him, he has been smoking since he was two years of age. Three and four strong cigars a day is about his limit during the summer time, but during the cooler weather he thinks nothing of burning up half a dozen a day. Does it hurt him? Well, if it does, he won't acknowledge it; neither will his parents, but, coming down to the facts of the case, it's a pretty safe bet that the local youngsterns whose mothers are intending giving a social event in their honor while Charlie is in the city, will see to it that his name is not on the list of "those receiving invitations."

Charlie will probably remain here for several days, in order to see what the local medicoes can do toward putting his constitution in trim once again.

NEGRO HIT SYRIAN.

Gave Him a Severe Blow on Head With "Pop" Bottle—Arrested.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New Bern, N. C., Aug. 22.—Chief of Police C. Lupton returned last evening from Washington where he went to take into custody Ferdinand Fleming, colored, who several weeks ago decided that it was just about time for Africa and Syria to mix up in a good old fashioned scrap and put his decision into actions by "soaking" a Syrian named Shadiac on the head with a "pop" bottle.

The blow would have killed a horse, said spectators, and it came mighty near furnishing Shadiac with passports across the river Styx. However, he recovered and is now in pretty good shape.

Fleming was captured at Washington yesterday morning and held for the local police.

REPAIRING FAMOUS MOTOR CAR.

Will Again be Put in Operation on the Norfolk Southern.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New Bern, N. C., August 22. — In the local shops of the Norfolk Southern Railway Company being renovated and repaired is motor car No. 90 of that company. The car is to be thoroughly overhauled and put into good shape, and when it goes out on its run again it will be in first-class working order.

This old car has had a remarkable history. Built years ago, when the motor rail car was quite a novelty, it has been almost constantly in use. On its cushions have rode millionaires and near millionaires, near paupers and those just a little bit nearer.

JUDGE LYON TO PRESIDE

Interesting Term of Superior Court to be Held at New Bern.

(Special Star Correspondence).

New Bern, Aug. 22.—Judge Lyon, of Elizabethtown, is to preside over the next term of Craven county Superior court, which convenes here for a one-week ter mon September 4th, and, while this term is arther short, it gives promise of being one of more than usual interest.

The docket is comprised of cases ranging all the way from murder down through the list of attempted criminal assault and assault with a deadly weapon to crap shooting and skin games.

There are now about twenty-five prisoners in the county jail awaiting trial and equally as large a number are out on bail.

SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 18.

Progress Made in Wadesboro Schools Under Prof. McIver.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Aug. 22.—The 10th year of the Wadesboro graded school wil begin September 18th. This institution has been under the direction of Prof. J. R. McIver for the past decade and each year has made substantial progress. The personnel of the faculty will be changed in several of the grades for the coming year.

During the summer vacation water connection and a complete sewerage has been installed and other improvements to the school property and plans are being worked out to make this the best year in the history of the graded school here.

TRAIN HITS AUTOMOBILE.

John Quillen, Wife, Two Children and Negro Chauffeur Killed.

Berlin, Md., August 22. — Five persons were killed and four injured when the Pennsylvania 9 o'clock train struck the car of John Quillen, at the state road crossing, about a half mile from Berlin tonight.

The dead: Quillen, his wife and two children—Denmead, 8 years old, and Norman, aged 3—and Henry Predeau, the colored chauffeur.

San Juan, August 22. — A severe storm with a wind velocity of more than 90 miles an hour, broke at 4 o'clock this morning, and lasted for three hours. Many houses were unroofed. The street car service was stopped. Small shipping in the harbor was damaged. There have been no reports from the interior or from the southern side of the island.

Washington, Aug. 22.—An attack on former Justice Hughes, was made in the House today by Representative Aswell, of Louisiana, Democrat, who charged the Republican presidential nominee with egotism and inconsistency and with being the candidate of the monopolistic interests.
